New Conference Called In Y Dispute

Negotiators To Assemble Friday Night

A special meeting called for 8 p.m. tomorrow in the CLU headquarters, East Stroudsburg, was the only decision reached yesterday after plumbing and heating union officials, a local contractor and YMCA directors bent over a peace-pipe attempting to solve the current eight-week work stoppage at the new $520,000 YMCA building.

YMCA building committee heads are expected to appeal to the 128-man local union for some resolution which would clear the air and allow work to resume at the Main St., Stroudsburg, project.

Key man in talks yesterday was Robert Bauxbaum, of the Washington, D. C., office of the United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry.

In essence Bauxbaum said the only solution he could see for resumption of work was to have Hanford L. Cleveland, East Stroudsburg plumbing contractor, agree to turn the job over to union plumbers. But it was Bauxbaum who proposed the meeting now scheduled for tomorrow night.

Bauxbaum told Y directors the local construction could prove a "Frankenstein" to the union if an agreement was reached through him that work resume on the present setup without having Cleveland's workers fully-endorsed in the union, or without allowing a union firm to do the work.

He explained any leniency here could boomerang across the nation since a precedence would be set by which other contractors would point their finger at the Stroudsburg Y and demand similar treatment.

Whether tomorrow's meeting could result in withdrawing the lone picket, who has been traversing the small sidewalk section on Main St. eight weeks, remains undecided.

Bauxbaum, answering a question of Holt Wyckoff, co-chairman of the building fund, who asked, "Can the local body (union) take the picket off without chastisement of International?" said "Yes, but we couldn't permit that." He further explained such action would open the door to other areas where holdups parelleling this one exist.

Y directors emphasized through spokesmen they will carry the appeal to local union men on the basis that the YMCA is a community-wide project, supported by public funds and ask, as local men, if the union won't erase some of the demands now levied.

Williams, pointing to the public's part in the dispute, said they were "angry" because of the work stoppage. Bauxbaum added "You know the public well enough. The public is fickle. They go right out and scream and in a short time it's all forgotten."

D. W. Frankenfield, YMCA president, noted it was impossible for the board of directors to take sides in any issues. He explained any decision like that could result in people refusing to pay their pledges, and perhaps the loss of $50,000 to the project. He added there would be little chance to again solicit and gain that much money.

In his opening remarks Bauxbaum said "I don't think anybody can appreciate the work of the YMCA like I do. I hold it in high esteem." He agreed with directors "this is a nasty situation" and said the union has no desire to hurt the YMCA.

Local labor was injected into the picture when Bauxbaum was asked if Cleveland turned over the plumbing work to a union contractor would local union help be used. He said he would guarantee that no one but local union plumbers would work there.

Referring to the general picture the International union representative said, "You don't ask Mr. Cleveland to get you out of this—you ask us." He said he felt the approach was unfair in expecting the union to give all without the contractor being asked to bend some too.

Cleveland said "I know you (the YMCA project) will lose a lot of pledges if I back out," and Bauxbaum said "a lot of union men contributed too, they'll do the same thing."

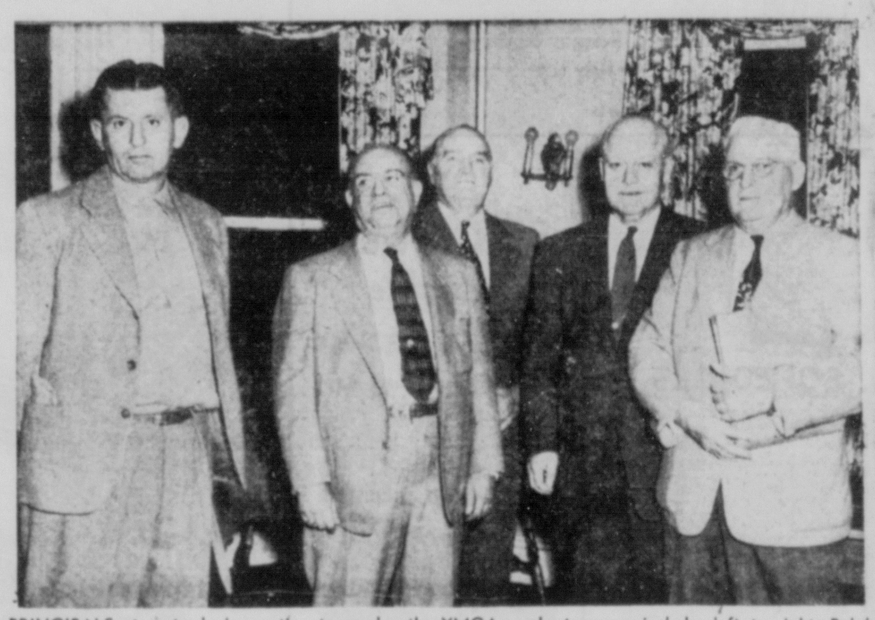

As the discussion see-sawed union officials held firm to their opinion that any relaxing of regulations on the YMCA would result in a nation-wide trend toward easement.

Y officials argued there should be a distinction in the type of construction, noting this is a community project and should be considered as such.

As in the first meeting last week, prayer opened and closed the session with John Wilson, general secretary of the Y offering invocation and benediction.

Ralph Paul, local union business agent, explained he's done all in his power to ease the situation "even to the point of causing dissension within our own group." Paul said this was done when he

Gains For Labor Seen In Offing

Cleveland, (AP)—President Eisenhower's new secretary of labor, James P. Mitchell, told the CIO yesterday the administration is striving to expand the nation's minimum wage law and to strip the Taft-Hartley Law of features "really dangerous to labor."

In his first major speech since taking the Cabinet post six weeks ago, Mitchell appealed to the CIO convention for labor cooperation with the Republican administration and said labor problems are "too big, too important, to be treated as a political football."

"There is no disposition in this administration," Mitchell said, "to turn back the clock, nor to recall the old days when American labor was cowed, exploited and unorganized.

"On the contrary. There is keen recognition that the national policy to encourage collective bargaining between employes and employers is sound policy."

But Mitchell advised organized labor to quit demanding outright repeal of the controversial Taft-Hartley Law and recognize that it has "sound, fair and just" provisions.

Grange Calls For Balanced U.S. Budget

Burlington, Vt., (AP)—The National Grange yesterday called upon the Eisenhower administration to balance the federal budget and suggested this could be done by increasing governmental efficiency.

The 87th annual session of the nation's oldest farm organization also urged Congress to oppose proposals to raise the national debt limit above the present 275 billion dollar level "beyond what may be required to care for expenditures authorized by Congress in previous years."

In a resolution approved by delegates from 37 states, the Grange said it believed the federal budget "can be balanced and kept in balance, except during an all-out war, if the essential activities of government are conducted efficiently."

Meanwhile, the farm convention heard Lt. Gen. Joseph Smith, commanding general of the Military Air Transport Service, declare that this country must build and maintain an Air Force second to none.

Seven Survive Crash

Pearl Harbor, (AP)—A Navy Catalina flying boat ditched and broke up in rough seas north of Midway Island yesterday and a merchant freighter reported sighting all seven crewmen in a life raft.

Reference To McCarthyism Arouses Eisenhower's Ire

Washington, (AP)—In the fading splendor of a conference chamber overlooking the White House the President of the United States stood yesterday, answering reporters' questions.

"Ex-President Truman has charged," a newsman said, "that your administration has now embraced McCarthyism. Do you have any comment on that?"

Dwight D. Eisenhower took a full step back from the mahogany desk with its pair of bowling pin-shaped microphones. Face reddening, he looked—hard—for a long moment at his questioner. Then, biting off each word, he gave his answer to the 179 newsmen and women seated before him:

He was ready, he said, to take the verdict of this body—these correspondents—on that.

To start with, he went on, McCarthyism is a term that he doesn't particularly understand.

He had some things to say on other subjects:

One—He does not think the federal budget can be balanced in the fiscal year starting next July 1. Tax adjustments and the high cost of farm relief, the President said, are two of the things which make this unlikely.

Two—He's stretching the funds available for drought relief by having the Commodity Credit Corp. make feed supplies available on the cuff. So to speak—that is, without being paid for them until Congress comes back and has a chance to vote more money.

Three—He will work hard for domestic cooperation in all bi-partisan matters, especially foreign affairs. And talks with key Democrats he indicated, may come soon after he holds full dress conferences with Republican leaders Dec. 17-19 to chart the program he expects to lay before the next Congress.

Four—The federal government will act swiftly and with its full power to halt any business recession or major unemployment. Eisenhower indicated he saw no signs of a major recession in the recent fall-off in steel output and the decline of employment.

Dewey Forces Wicks To Quit Senate Post

Albany, N. Y., (AP)—Acting Lt. Gov. Arthur H. Wicks resigned his leadership of the New York Senate yesterday as a sequel to his visits to labor extortionist Joseph S. Fay in Sing Sing Prison.

The resignation, demanded by his fellow Republican, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, is effective today. It ends a roaring quarrel between Wicks and Dewey that shook their party violently.

Soon after Wicks announced his resignation, Dewey issued this statement:

"On Oct. 12 I met with Sen. Wicks on the subject of his visits to Joseph Fay in Sing Sing Prison. At the end of the discussion I asked Sen. Wicks to resign as majority leader and temporary president of the Senate. He has now done so, and the resignation speaks for itself."

Wicks, 65, a veteran of 27 years in the Senate, asked why he resigned, said "One reason is that I'm taking a much-needed vacation," and did not want the responsibilities of the leadership "marring that vacation."

He made it plain he was not resigning his Senate seat. He represents a Hudson River Valley district.

Bathing Suit Attracts Too Much Attention

Los Angeles, (AP)—The one-piece bathing suit pretty Mrs. Patricia C. Muncy wore at a Santa Monica pool attracted considerable attention.

Mrs. Muncy was pleased, until she looked at her suit. Upon contact with water, she said yesterday in an action asking $10,000 damages, it "became transparent and pervious to light."

Her action, directed against the firm from which she bought the suit, said she was exposed to public gaze and ridicule and suffered extreme embarrassment and shock.

Passenger Dies In C-47 Crash

Albuquerque, N. M., (AP)—An Air Force C47 transport crashed late yesterday on take off in a heavy snowstorm at Kirtland Air Force base, killing one of its eight military passengers.

Another man was injured critically, base officials said. The others were injured but apparently not seriously.

Probers Claim Snyder Boosted Spy Suspect

By Roger D. Greene

Washington, (AP)—Senate spy hunters yesterday pointed to documentary evidence that former Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder promoted Harold Glasser to a $10,000-a-year post in 1946 after FBI reports cited Glasser as an alleged Soviet spy.

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee promptly announced that Snyder will be called to explain his attitude toward Glasser.

Jenner also announced that the subcommittee will await further data from Atty. Gen. Brownell before deciding whether to call Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark, whose name has figured prominently in the uproar over the Harry Dexter White "Russian spy" case.

Clark has offered to reply to written questions, but has refused to comply with a House Un-American Activities Committee subpoena summoning him to testify under oath on his role in the White case.

The high court justice was attorney general in 1946 when former President Truman promoted White from assistant secertary of the treasury to a tax free $17,000-a-year post as U. S. executive director of the International Monetary fund.

FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover testified Tuesday that he sent the White House repeated messages linking White to Soviet espionage and that he opposed Truman's decision to keep White in federal service.

Truman has said he kept White on to avoid tipping off the fact that the FBI was investigateing him and others. Hoover said that White's promotion to the monetary post hampered instead of helped the FBI investigation.

Chairman Jenner announced plans to call Snyder "at some later time" after subcommittee counsel Robert Morris read into the record a series of letters Snyder wrote concerning his ex-aide, Glasser.

160 Employes Demoted For Hour Cutting

Washington, (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield said yesterday he has temporarily demoted 160 employes in the Postal Transportation Service, including 42 supervisors, in connection with alleged shortcutting of working hours on mail-train runs.

The announcement said the 160 are being "administratively disciplined by temporary reduction in rank and salary for leaving their jobs in railway post office cars before completing the day's work."

The reductions in grade involve cuts in salary of as much as $1,000 a year for top-rank supervisors and $100 per year for clerks.

The postmaster general said that restoration of the old grades will be considered April 1, 1954, "subject to good behavior during the intervening period."

The announcement said the grade reductions had been made in the middle division of the New York-Chicago run, the Pittsburgh-Chicago run and the Chicago and Cincinnati Railway Post Offices.

Summerfield asserted that hour-cutting "had been going on for a number of years" on these runs.

GOP Calls Upon Women To Help In 1954 Campaign

Washington (AP)—The Republican National Committee is turning to women for help in the GOP campaign to pile up a majority in the 1954 congressional elections.

Miss Bertha Adkins, assistant to the GOP national chairman, announced yesterday that a three-day national conference of Republican women leaders will be held in Washington beginning next April 6.

Miss Adkins estimated 1,500 women from 48 states will attend.

Nash Announces 1954 Price Cuts

Detroit (AP) — Nash Motors announced yesterday that most of its 1954 model cars will carry lower price tags, with reductions ranging from $57.50 on the Rambler super two-door sedan to $160.75 on the Ambassador two door sedan.

CARL AUSTIN HALL (bottom, center) follows Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady out of Federal Court, Kansas City, where the pair, confessed kidnapers and slayers of Bobby Greenlease, 6, were on trial to determine whether they should be executed in Missouri's gas chamber.

Hall Attempts To Save Life Of Mrs. Heady; Case Goes To Federal Court Jury Today

By Larry Hall

Kansas City, (AP)—Carl Austin Hall, ready to die for the kidnap killing of little Bobby Greenlease, turned the final stages of his trial yesterday into a dramatic attempt to save the life of his paramour, Bonnie Brown Heady.

His surprise move came after the testimony was completed. The federal court jury will take the case today, as soon as Judge Albert L. Reeves instructs it.

U. S. Dist. Atty. Edward L. Scheufler countered Hall's gesture of chivalry with an impassioned demand that both must die. He said they were equally guilty of "the most heinous crime in the annals of American criminal history."

Neither Hall nor Mrs. Heady took the stand. But Hall's attorney, Roy L. Dietrich, told the jury: "He did this. He planned it. He must not be put off on Bonnie."

And Bonnie's lawyer, Harold Hull, said she was but "putty in the hands" of the vicious killer, Hall.

Both attorneys pleaded for Christian merry and charity from the jurors. They said the guilty pair already had been "tried, convicted and condemned" in the public eye. But the jury should not be swayed by "this clamor."

The only issue for the jury is whether the pair lives or dies. If the jury recommends a death sentence, they would be executed in Missouri's gas chamber. If the jury recommends leniency, they would be sentenced to prison.

The defense took less than three hours to present its evidence. All of it pictured Hall, 34, and Mrs. Heady, 41, as the children of unloving parents.

Both defense attorneys blamed whiskey and money madness for the shocking tragedy. They did not challenge any of the great weight of evidence piled up by the government showing how the plot to get $600,000 ransom was planned, rehearsed and carried out in all its fantastic detail.

Assistant Army Secretary Named

Washington, (AP)—Maj. Gen. Hugh M. Milton, 2nd, 56, of New Mexico, was appointed by President Eisenhower yesterday as assistant secretary of the Army in charge of manpower and reserve forces.

He would succeed James P. Mitchell, recently appointed secretary of labor.

Some People Never Learn

Ann Arbor, Mich., (AP)—A woman rushed into the police Traffic Bureau here Tuesday, paid off three parking tickets and rushed out, leaving behind a mighty confused clerk.

Over her shoulder she tossed the explanation for her haste:

"My car is parked in a 'no parking' zone."

Dog Leads Men To Body Of Boy Killed In Woods

Monongahela (AP) — The barking of his faithful dog led searchers yesterday to the body of 13-year-old Michael Milton Jr.

Coroner James Gray of Washington County said the boy apparently had stumbled while on a hunting trip. A blast from a single gauge shotgun struck him in the head.

Milton was last seen entering the woods with his dog shortly after he left school Tuesday. When he didn't return home for dinner volunteers began combing the woods for him.

Douglas Jet Clocked At 1,272 MPH

Washington, (AP) — The Douglas Skyrocket has flown 1,272 miles an hour, within split seconds of doubling the speed of sound.

The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, reporting this yesterday, said the jet achieved new speed marks for piloted aircraft in its flight last Oct. 14. NACA test pilot Scott Crossfield was at the controls.

The former record of 1,238 miles an hour was set Aug. 15, 1951, by Bill Bridgeman, Douglas test pilot, in the very same plane.

NACA said that in his record flight, Crossfield attained a mach speed of 1.96, compared with mach 1.867 for Bridgeman's famous flight 26 months earlier.

A mach speed of 2 would mean flight at twice the speed of sound. Mach measurements are more significant, scientifically, than miles per hour because the speed of sound is highly variable.

In air, at standard temperatures it ranges from 660 miles an hour at 30,000 feet to 760.9 miles an hour at sea level.

Crossfield overcame "slower air conditions" in making his record—an air temperature of 82 degrees below zero—than did Bridgeman, who set his mark in 67-below temperature in midsummer.

Berle To Wed

New York, (AP)—Milton Berle, television comedian, and Ruth Cosgrove will be married in New York City early in December.

Sections Of Pennsylvania Blanketed By Smoky Haze

Philadelphia, (AP)—The smoky have covering much of Pennsylvania should be dispersed by late today, the U. S. Weather Bureau said yesterday.

The weatherman said a high pressure area, the cause of the condition, will start to move out today when a cold front moves in. Wind accompanying the front will blow most of the haze away, he said.

Today will continue to be windy and there will be rain.

The weatherman said the haze and smoke gather at night due to "radiational cooling." This condition occurs, he said, when upper air masses, warmed by air currents from the sun-heated earth, do not allow the haze and smoke to rise.

The air closer to the earth cools and condenses.

When the sun comes up in the morning, the weatherman explained, the "temperature inversion"—upper air masses being warmer than air near the earth—is gradually dispersed as the sun heats the earth.

"It's typical high pressure area weather," the weather bureau said.

Areas in the state blanketed by the smoke or haze or both include Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Altoona, Wiliamsport, Philipsburg and Philadelphia.

Seeks To Clear Suspicion From People's Minds

By Douglas B. Cornell

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower shunted the Harry Dexter White case aside yesterday and voiced a hope the Communists in government issue will be a matter of history and memory by the time next year's election rolls around.

Eisenhower said that at this time he isn't saying another word about the "Soviet espionage" case that has rocked Washington and the country.

He told his news conference he hopes measures taken by his administration will clear from the minds of the American people suspicions that the government is weak in regard to Red infiltration.

No, he said, that didn't mean he would discourage persons in the executive arm of the government or in the Republican party from keeping the issue alive. But he said he trusted sincerely that the need for congressional investigations along this line will be eliminated.

The President nevertheless repeated his view that Congress has a right in investigate.

From Republican National chairman Leonard W. Hall came a statement that he agreed with Eisenhower on cleaning up "the mess in Washington," as "Communism is the basic issue of our times."

One reporter wanted to know what relative position the issue of Communist infiltration of government would take in next year's congressional election campaign in the light of an impresion left by GOP Chairman Hall in a television program that this would be the top talking point in 1954.

Eisenhower said issues aren't made by individuals but by the needs of the country. He spoke of the farm problem, taxes, expenditures.

The president recalled that in his State of the Union message to Congress last January he had said that cleaning up executive branches of the government was an executive responsibility.

He and his associates, he said are proceeding as strongly and as earnestly and thoroughly as they can, without doing injustice to any individual.

Now he hopes, he said, that this whole thing will be a matter of history and memory by the time the next election comes around. He added that he doesn't believe we can live in fear of each other forever and hopes and believes his administration is proceeding decently and justly to get the thing straightened out.

Relief Seen From Double Taxation

New York (AP)—Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) predicted yesterday that "some little relief" from double taxation will probably be provided in the forthcoming federal tax law.

Simpson addressed the annual finance conference of the American Management Assn.

The congressman said general opinion in the House Ways and Means Committee seems opposed to double taxation, which is taxing corporate profits and, through the individual income tax, the dividends paid on those profits.

But he said there was "no hope" of eliminating double taxation altogether because it would cost the treasury too much revenue.

It has been suggested, he said, that the individual taxpayer be allowed to deduct from his personal income tax liability either 5 to 10 per cent of the dividends he receives or up to $200.

Simpson also predicted a change in depreciation regulations. Under the new tax law, he said, companies probably will be able to depreciate new equipment at the rate of 20 per cent for the first year and 20 per cent of the undepreciated balance in each of the next four years. This would permit a write off of 66 2-3 per cent in the first five years.

Life Insurance Purchases Rise

New York (AP)—October purchases of life insurance amounting to $2,908,000,000, brought the aggregate for the first ten months of the year to $29,573,000,000, some 17 per cent more than a year ago.

The October figure, reported by the Life Insurance Agency Management Assn., compared with $2,738,000,000 in October of last year, and $2,256,000,000 in October, 1951.

VOLUNTEERS are responsible for a major portion of the work done each year for the annual Christmas Seal sale undertaken by Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society. Typical of the hundreds of county teen-agers and adults who have put their energies toward making the drive a success are John Vogt, 15, of 84 Brown St. and Dick Safin, 15, of 281 S. Courtland, both East Stroudsburg High School students. When the boys heard that the Christmas Seal sale needed a window design to help push publicity for the drive, they volunteered to set up a display in the Metropolitan Edison Co. window in the borough. Dick made the sign, center; then he and John cooperated in setting up the window display yesterday afternoon. (Daily Record Photo)

Young People Entertained At Church

Saylorsburg—The Youth Fellowship of St. Peter's Evangelical United Brethren Church here were hosts Monday night to area young people at the fire hall.

There were 80 youths present and eight ministers. Churches represented were Easton, Nazareth, Bangor, Pen Argyl, Paradise, Crossroads, Ackermanville and Saylorsburg.

Truman Kostenbader, a lay preacher from the Crossroads church was the speaker. A social followed. The next rally will be held in Pen Argyl in May.

The local Youth Fellowship convened at the church Tuesday night with Rev. Harold Ulmer in charge. Further plans were made for the group to witness the Ice Follies, December 7, at Hershey. A bus has been chartered to make the trip. Reservations are to be made by Nov. 29, with Miss Anna May Van Buskirk chairman. Bus will leave Ye Saylors Inn at 4 p.m. it was announced.

Present were Mary Margaret George, Anna May Van Buskirk, Carolyn Frable, Nancy Heller, Joyce Heller, Marian Koehler, Gail Schaffer, Dale Bartholomew, Berne Warner, Kenneth Arnold, Donald Conklin, Jackie Eckley and Rev. and Mrs. Ulmer.

Mink Season Now Under Way Throughout Area

The average sportsman, banging away at small game or getting ready for the bear season, gave little thought to the mink season which opened Nov. 9. But furtakers in this region went quietly about the task of setting traps to take the wily little animal.

The pelt of this much sought furbearer is not so valuable as it was years ago, but it still has sufficient worth to draw many trappers afield.

Minks may be trapped until noon Jan. 1. Traps must be tagged with metal name tags.

Relief Director Sets Record Straight On DPA Regulations

Correction of stories on public assistance which appeared in some area newspapers was made yesterday by C. B. Altemose, head of Monroe County Department of Public Assistance.

Altemose's chief complaint was against stories which quoted a State DPA official as saying that under new legislation, residence requirements had been tightened and many persons now on DPA rolls would have to be cut off them.

Gist of the stories was that anyone on assistance who "took a temporary job out of town" would have to prove a year's continuous residence after he got back home in order to once more qualify for assistance.

Another story had the same general allegations but said "a temporary job out of the State . . ."

Neither is correct, Altemose said yesterday after checking with State DPA headquarters in Harrisburg. "I can now say with authority," he said, "that these articles are absolutely wrong about the residence requirements.

"It would mean that if someone on assistance came down from Scranton to take a temporary resort job in the Summer, he wouldn't be able to get assistance when he went back. That's just not so."

Altemose added that even the second story, referring to "out of State temporary jobs" was incorrect.

"There are a number of requirements, and whether a person is qualified or not depends on the circumstances," he said. "If he said he was leaving the State for good, and had sold his home, and was taking up permanent residence in another State—then if he came back in three or four months we would have to require a year's continuous residence.

"But if he said he was going to take a temporary job in another State for a few months but planned to keep his permanent residence here—he could go back on the assistance rolls if he could show the need."

Altemose said two definite changes were contemplated by DPA, starting with Jan. 1, 1954.

One is that DPA will no longer pay for dentures, under a headquarters directive describing false teeth as "not necessary to health." The other is that DPA will no longer pay the client's medical bill, but will pay a "medical allowance" of $1 a month for each member of the family. The family is expected to save the "medical allowance" for medical emergencies and pay the physician's bill out of that money.

Christmas Club Thrift

Starting tomorrow and ending Nov. 30 regional banks will pour $780,666 into the economy of the Pocono Mountains region, while a Billion and Thirty-three Million Dollars will go out throughout the nation in the form of Christmas Club savings.

Very appropriately the checks are being distributed just before National Prosperity Week which starts Monday, Nov. 30.

The total dollar distribution in this region and throughout America is the largest in the 43 year history of Christmas Club operation. According to Edward F. Dorset, president of Christmas Club, a corporation of New York City average check for each of 11,740,000 Christmas Club members will be $87.99 as compared with $87.35 last year.

Also very appropriately the distribution of Christmas Club funds here comes on the eve of the inauguration of the Christmas shopping season by merchants of Stroudsburg. Saturday night they will start the season by turning on lights of colorful Christmas decorations.

Not all the Christmas Club money here and elsewhere will go to Santa Claus, however. Surveys by the Christmas Club Corp. show that some 400 million will be used for Christmas purchase while 300 million will go right back into various forms of permanent savings. The balance will be used for such constructive purposes as paying insurance premiums, cleaning up year-end bills, paying taxes and reducing mortgages.

Christmas Club members are of both large and small means and they are customers of large and small institutions.

The payments to be made here certainly indicate the economy of this region is sound and the thrift habits of the citizens are excellent. The same things are reflected in the national Chirstmas Club picture.

Common Sense?

The new executive director of the State Game Commission spoke truly when he suggested the other day that there should be little danger of any destructive forest fires in Pennsylvania "if hunters behave themselves and exercise a little common sense in trying to prevent them."

Dr. Logan J. Bennett, author of this sage advice, is a man who knows whereof he speaks, for he has had long experience not only in Penn's Woods but in other parts of the country as well.

It was impossible to detect, in the cold print quoting the executive director, whether he had any strong belief that the hunters and others would exercise a little common sense or whether he was just wishfully thinking out loud.

In any case, we are in strong agreement with him although we have little faith that those who go abroad over the length and breadth of our state will use the common sense of which he speaks.

Not all of them, mind you, for there are without doubt a great many citizens whose sense of responsibility is far more compelling than is their innate selfishness. But by the same token there is far too high a percentage of the thoughtlessly selfish ones, as witness the thousands of acres of timberland burned over this year in our state, almost entirely because of individual carelessness.

This is not to indict the hunters as a class, of course, for we have seen with our own eyes many who never go afield but who toss lighted cigarettes and similar elements from their cars as they speed through the dry countryside.

Common sense, Dr. Bennett, is a rare and fragile characteristic.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Laughter Under The Goal Posts

The gods, who like to make monkeys of human beings, had fun the other afternoon in a small Jersey town. There they threw the book, via Yale - Princeton football game, at the people who pick games they think dramatic enough for TV consideration. Football was cradled in the Big Three. Its finest traditions are woven into the fabric of the grid-iron game. You will find the epic contests, the unforgetable all-time classics in the record of Yale-Harvard-Princeton battles. Yet every Big Three game has been given the brush-off as a TV attraction for several seasons. How the gods must have roared when the Tiger and the Bulldog put on an epic battle so full of suspense, drama and electrifying thrills that it might have been especially written for TV, directed by a TV expert and designed for the sponsor who spends heavy dough for a show that will hold the customers breathless!

Class, glamor, prestige and tradition hover over the Yale-Princeton and Yale-Harvard football clashes as over no other contests on the football map, even when the teams are mediocre. They always have something not necessarily found in the games chosen for TV through considerations of locality, precision football and the big betting-pool games. Yet they were given the deep-freeze treatment and a fan looking for a Big Three clash on a Saturday might as well be a Hottentot on a sea-lion hunt. "Only the game that figures to be the big TV show!" seems to be the slogan. But last Saturday Yale and Princeton put on a drama-packed, nip-and-tuck, hell-for-leather contest that will be talked of long after every other game this year is forgotten, come hell, high water or Michigan versus Michigan State. It was really Dragnet with helmets and shoulder harnesses. It had all the features of "From Here To Eternity," "Frank Merriwell" and "This Is Your FBI."

What goes? To give the Big Three games the heave-ho because many colleges have come up in the past few years with better and tougher teams is like saying that Shaw shouldn't be read any more because Mickey Spillane has developed a tremendous following. It is like holding Toscanini recitals have no place in the picture against juke-box recitals of "Doggie in the Window." Traditions still count. Sentiment is not ash can stuff. There is more color to any Big Three game than TV schedule makers concede. Football as an institution can use the spirit of these contests, good, bad or indifferent.

This week the annual Yale-Harvard football game, famed for generations, will pack the bowl but it was on no TV schedule when this was written. Unimportant? Locale in the cradle of American football inadequate? Lovers of football not interested? Quick, Watson, the needle! And see if TV is showing Wyoming versus New Mexico or Oberlin versus Denison.

It is just possible that Harry Truman, in those morning walks, made the coming Macy parade anti-climatic . . . And speaking of the Macy parade we hear an effort is being made to get Mossadegh into it . . . A dog-food corporation will sponsor Kukla, Fran & Ollie on Sundays and it will be half an hour before another dog-food program "Zoo Parade" comes on the air . . . This Sunday atmosphere can put us into a mood where we will start scratching our right ear with our left foot . . . Ima Dodo thinks that new play in which Alfred Drake is starring is "Kismet Kate." . . . Why all the emphasis on the White case anyhow, in view of the well known and recorded fact that there are scores of others (and they are alive and enjoying cozy lives) who can be documented as serving the Kremlin through Washington agencies? . . . If New York really means to clean up the Times Square area as threatened, a beginning might be made with those movie houses in its very heart which for years have specialized wholly in movies aimed at the lecherous mind and which have been distorting the minds of kids with minimum interference from the city?

WHISTLE STOP

Robert S. Allen Reports

Big Three Bermuda Meeting Will Discuss China Trade

Washington — More will be heard about those mysterious hints of lifting the ban against trade with Red China.

Despite State Department denials, there is fire behind that smoke.

For example: The matter will definitely be discussed at the "Big Three" conference in Bermuda next month.

That's already been agreed on. Britain requested it, and Washington and Paris acquiesced. The subject will be taken up in connection with the crucial problem of devising a common strategy in the Far East, particularly for dealing with Communist China.

That's one of the two key issues of this meeting. The other is a possible parley with Premier Malenkov, that is strongly favored by Prime Minister Churchill.

Since the Korean truce, the U. S. and Britain have split on Chinese trade.

At the "Big Three" Foregin Ministers conference in Washington last July, they agreed to continue adhering to the UN resolution, voted May 18, 1951, condemning the sale of strategic supplies to Red China. In a joint communique they stated, "In the existing circumstances and pending further consultation, the common policies of the three Powers toward Communist China should be maintained."

However, since that declaration, Britain's position has changed. It now favors (1) easing the restrictions on what constitutes strategic materials, and (2) permitting the shipment of items on this revised list before the still-far-from-certain Korean peace conference takes place.

The U. S. is against both propositions. It contends trade is a vital bargaining factor in the Allies' hands to induce the Reds to agree to withdraw their troops and to permit the unification of Korea under an independent government. The U. S. holds that trade concessions should come as a result of the conference and not before it.

Note: Britain is particularly eager to sell trucks and other motor equipment to China. Peiping is pushing a huge road-building program and wants all the vehicles it can get. So far, British shipments have been largely light trucks, small passenger cars and motorcycles.

On the make—One great difficulty faces the U. S. in these backstage discussions.

This is the shocking increase in shipments of strategic materials to Red China since the end of the Korean war.

The total is estimated as ten times greater than six months ago.

Virtually all of this highly profitable trade is by individuals and concerns in European countries which, officially, are still upholding the UN embargo.

That's what Harold Stassen, Director of the Foreign Operations Administration, will state in a lengthy report he is preparing for Congress. Highlights of this revealing survey are as follows:

Since the signing of the Korean armistice, enforcement of the 1951 UN economic embargo has greatly deteriorated.

The amount of so-called non-strategic materials shipped to China has already exceeded the estimated $257,000,000 worth obtained by the Reds in 1952.

The U. S. is continuing to enforce strict controls on trade with China, but is under increasing pressure from both domestic and foreign sources to review the policy.

Stassen's report will cite numerous violations of the UN embargo. One of the most extraordinary is a shipment of strategic goods, including valuable mercury, that took three years to reach China. Following is the inside story:

"In 1950, certain shipments of strategic goods left West Germany, Italy and the Netherlands bound for the Chinese mainland. They were carried on a Dutch vessel, Enroute, this vessel stopped in Japan. By that time the Korean invasion was in full blast, and American authorities ordered the goods to be unloaded at Kobe, Japan. There they sat for a long time. Finally, last year, a Japanese license was obtained for another Dutch line to haul the goods back to West Germany, Italy and the Netherlands. This seemed reasonable at the time.

"But when the cargoes had made the long voyage back to Europe, they were unloaded at Antwerp. And it turned out that the bills of lading had been made out to a Belgian trading firm with a propensity for trade with the Communists. At Antwerp, the goods were loaded on Polish vessels, which took them to Poland and then around the other side of the world again—to Communist China."

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Most Of White's Associates In Red Cell Are Alive And Should Be Dealt With Now

I have been writing for so many years about the men who betrayed America, including Harry Dexter White, that the current furor surprises me only because it comes so late. To separate Harry Dexter White as a special case is to misunderstand the frightful decisions of obscure men which controlled the course of our history since 1934. White was one of a large group that originated in the Harold Ware Cells in 1934.

To emphasize White and to omit, in any analysis of the course of events, John Abt, Nathan Witt, Victor Perlo, Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, Lauchlin Currie, Harold Glasser, Charles Kramer, George Silverman, Michael Lee, Solomon Adler, Henry Collins, Jr., Frank Coe, Michael Greenberg, and dozens of others whose names and records are known, is to miss the whole story.

Harry Dexter White was not a top man in the great conspiracy to infiltrate the government. Because of his extraordinary ability, he rose to a high position in the United States Treasury. He was an abler man than the Secretaries of the Treasury under whom he served, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Fred Vinson and John Snyder, and therefore, as an expert, played so important a part in the fiscal affairs of this country. But he was only a secondary personality and a tool inside the conspiratorial group.

On March 29, 1937, in commenting on the Russian revolution and the effort in the years preceding 1937 of the Harold Ware Cells to win the victories of revolution by infiltration, I wrote:

"Revolutions are successful when an organized minority discovers that the majority is split, is confused, is without vigilance. Then it is revolutionary tactics to confound and confuse the majority by side issues, by speeches on humane subjects, by beating the drum of progress and liberalism.

"Almost like vaudevillians repeating the jokes of a decade and a century ago, the revolutionists and the compromisers repeat the slogans and the adages of all the centuries and of all countries. They play upon distress; they create emergencies; they ridicule fundamentals. And all sorts of people are taken in by these tricks and they bow to the golden calf of humane proposals. Only too late do they learn that this emphatic humanity is only a veneer, only a sham in the rise to power.

"The minority stand upon the shoulders of those whom they fool only as long as they need protection. When they want to come to earth, they destroy the props that supported them . . .

"The American people do not yet realize that they are in the first stage of a revolution . . ."

It will be recalled that William A. Wirt, an educator of Gary, Indiana, exploded after a party in which the plans to make Roosevelt "the Kerensky" of the American revolution were discussed. This was in 1934. Wirt was ridiculed and literally hounded to death. It can be said without possibility of error that if an honest investigation of Wirt's data had been made at the time, neither Alger Hiss nor Harry Dexter White could have become so important in our affairs.

No matter what Harry Truman says about his personal attitude toward Harry Dexter White, this effort of a small minority to take over America did not altogether fail. The current hysterical efforts, for instance, to cover up the Fort Monmouth case, the undercover negotiations to avert public hearings, the confusing, contradictory statements by Secretary of the Army Stevens and Senator Joe McCarthy are of the same cloth as the cover up of Alger Hiss, of Harry Dexter White, of Lauchlin Currie, of many others.

The fact that the hearings concerning General Richard C. Partridge and Samuel McKee, Jr., one the head of G-2, United States Army, and the other the Civilian Consultant to the Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2, have remained "confidential," despite the fact that General Partridge was removed from his post shortly after the Executive Session Hearings of the McCarthy Committee, serves neither General Partridge, the Army, nor the United States. Partridge and McKee are entitled to a public hearing to safeguard their reputations from rumor and hearsay. This is another example of an unnecessary and inadvisable cover up which can serve only to hide Communist infiltration.

Harry Dexter White and his group were able to commit offenses against the United States. White is dead. Most of the others in the group are alive and they are available for testimony. Why not deal with the live ones?

That Big Three conference in Bermuda which was postponed from last summer will finally be held in December. Let's hope the political climate proves as salubrious as the Bermudian one.

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

Got a headache?

Go to a movie, says Dr. William R. Chambers of Atlanta, Ga.

But don't make it a comedy or a love story. That won't help your headache a bit.

Make it a lurid one — the lurider the better.

Of course, a lurid movie will cure only the ordinary headache —the kind that made this country use 16 billion aspirin tablets last year, at a cost of more than $90,000,000.

The doctor told the Southern Medical Association that half of the patients who seek medical aid complain mostly of headaches.

And of these, the majority have what is called "tension headaches —the type that is caused by the stresses of modern living.

This kind of headache, according to Dr. Chambers, "is almost always improved by a good vacation, an absorbing book, or a lurid movie."

If you cannot afford a vacation, haven't a good book handy or don't feel like going to a movie, try a good cry.

"A good cry is sometimes better than drugs," said the doctor.

About that 16-billion-aspirin-business.

We here in America are undoubtedly the biggest bunch of pill-eaters in the world.

You have all read about the Lotophagi or Lotus Eaters of ancient history, who, according to Homer's Odyssey, lived on the north coast of Africa, existing on the fruit of the lotus plant.

This fruit induced such a feeling of happy languor that the victim's only desire was to live in delicious idleness in Lotusland.

Well, they don't sell lotus fruit in any of the supermarkets nowadays. At least I haven't seen any of it at any market or fruit-stand.

But pills ARE sold by the billion. There are pills for everything. I myself am a confirmed pill addict. In my medicine closet I have pills to cure headaches, colds, stomach-aches, high blood pressure, neuritis, neuralgia, and pip.

I have blue pills, green pills, white pills, yellow pills and red pills. Some are taken three times a day before meals, some twice a day after meals, some once a day between meals.

Unfortunately, the labels have come off most of the pill bottles, so I just take the pills by color, according to what color strikes me best at the moment—and I guess they do me just as much good as they would if I took them "as directed."

I asked my physician one time why he prescribed some pills to be taken before meals, others after meals.

"Oh thats just to remind' you," he said.

I think the pills that did me the most good were some the doctor once prescribed for me. I took them three times a day after meals for three days—and I felt like a top! Later I found out that the ingredients were simply sugar and imagination.

Have YOUR doctor give you some of them some time when you don't feel right. But, at any rate, IF you don't feel right DO see your doctor. He knows more about medicine than I do.

Townships Urged To Draft Zoning Laws, Name Commissions

Wayne Price New President Of Officials

At least half of Monroe County's 16 townships urgently need zoning laws, Monroe township officials were told yesterday.

And all of the townships should name township commissions to draft zoning and other laws, add/d H. A. Thomson, secretary of the State Supervisors' Association.

"The time to pass zoning laws is before they're needed," he said, "not after it's too late."

Mr. Thompson pointed out that zoning is the best and virtually only way for a township to protect its property values, keep land value from deteriorating. Once zoning laws have been enacted, Thompson said, the invariable reaction of residents is, "Why didn't we do this years ago?"

He said that the townships which especially need zoning protection are those in areas which are being developed for resort purposes or industrial purposes, and those through which main traffic arteries pass.

Thompson's statements on zoning came at the end of a day-long session for supervisors, auditors, assessors, tax collectors and during a talk which covered recent legislation and how it effects powers and duties of township supervisors.

At election of officers, Wayne A. Price, Cresco, was named president to replace Russell Werkheiser, retiring. Others elected were Cicero Frederick, East Stroudsburg RD1, first vice-president; William Quinn, Pocono Pines, second vice-president; Edwin Bond, and Price, delegates to the State convention; and Arlington Kresge and Stewart Rowe, alternate delegates.

More than 60 members and guests attended the affair. Next meeting was set for November 1954, at a place to be determined by the executive committee.

Supervisors adopted a number of resolutions dealing with legislation or proposed legislation.

Better law enforcement and a "more equitable financial situation" would result from payment of all motor vehicle fines to the township in which the offense occured, it was resolved.

The law should allow permits for encroachments on Township roads to be issued only by those responsible for the roads—the supervisors.

Legal weight of motor trucks on Pennsylvania highways should not be increased, and "these huge trucks" should "begin to pay a fair share of their cost of road construction and maintenance in Pennsylvania."

Exemption of machinery from assessment and taxation, in accordance with legislation this year, will "work extreme hardship on many of our townships" and repeal of this law is recommended.

Bonds for justices of the peace should be at least equal to the amount of money handled by them, the resolutions said.

The final resolution said that "due to the continued failure of Federal aid in Pennsylvania, we feel that the cause of better roads in this state would be better served by the repeal of the Federal aid law, and the reversion of the two-cent gasoline tax to the State level.

Hunter Kills 405-Pound Bear In Long Pond Sector

Long Pond—Biggest bear killed in the area this season was shot near here Tuesday morning. It weighed in at 405 pounds.

The lucky hunter was Stewart R. Marsh of Pen Argyl, who has hunted for 15 years and never saw another bear while hunting.

Marsh watched the bear for half an hour, he said. The animal was playing in laurel bushes. At first, the Pen Argyl man said, he didn't have nerve enough to shoot it. Then hunters some distance the other side of the bear started making noises.

The noise evidently frightened the bear and it moved toward Marsh. Marsh fired his .30 caliber rifle at the animal when it was about 150 feet away.

The first bullet evidently broke the animal's neck and felled it. Marsh fired several more shots to make sure. Two Catasauqua men were hunting with Marsh at the time but were not in the vicinity when he bagged the big bruin. They and three other men helped Marsh carry the bear to the nearby roadway and load it on the top of Marsh's car.

The top of the car bent in.

Game Protector John Doebling said there were no other reports of bear kills in the county.

In Pike County, Game Protector John H. Lohman said about six bears had been killed there since the season opened Monday. The biggest weighed about 225 pounds. Several more bear have been wounded, according to hunters' reports, but the bear population seems to be rapidly disappearing—because of extremely scarce food supply, Lohman thinks.

Fire Alarm Sounds Twice

East Stroudsburg firemen made two runs yesterday—both on minor alarms.

At 5:50 a.m. firemen visited an apartment building at the corner of N. Courtland St. and W. Broad St. when an oil burner blew out and caused considerable smoke and noise, but no fire. Firemen were not needed.

At 9:50 p.m. the second alarm took fire trucks to a point near Miller's store on N. Courtland St. past the Route 190 intersection, where a car had caught fire from a short circuit in wiring under the hood.

The small blaze was doused with water before much damage was done. Firemen said they understood the owner was named Schaarschmidt, and was from the northern part of the county, but said they were unable to find him after the fire was out.

Evidently Schaarschmidt was seeking a tow truck to haul his car to a garage.

Police Arrest AWOL Soldier

Parade Scheduled At Lehighton

Lehighton — Carbon County's postponed Armistice Day celebration and Hallowe'en parade will be held here at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Sponsored by Shoemaker-Haydt Post 314, American Legion, the dual affair was snowed under Nov. 7. About $3,000 in prizes will be awarded. Units and participants will register at the municipal building.

LeBar Parked, Police Report

Stroudsburg police said yesterday that the automobile of Eugene N. Knierim, 31, East Stroudsburg, struck a parked car belonging to John LeBar, Stroudsburg, on Main St. early Monday morning.

The Record's account of the accident said the latter car was driven by Mr. LeBar. Police records show the car was parked and nobody was in it at the time of the accident, according to Assistant Chief John B. Tretheway.

61 Deer Die On Highways In One Month

Milford — Sixty-one deer were struck and killed by automobiles in Pike County last month.

The traffic slaughter is going on at about the same rate this month too, said Pike Game Protector John H. Lohman.

Tuesday night the toll was five deer killed by cars, he added.

The accidents are reducing the number of deer available for hunters when deer season opens, as well as resulting in considerable damage to the vehicles involved, Lohman said.

Such accidents can be avoided, he pointed out to motorists: Drive slowly along heavily wooded sections, and keep lights dimmed. When two green spots can be seen, assume they're the reflections from a deer's eyes and slow down.

Motor Corps Assisting In Diabetes Drive

The volunteers of the Red Cross Motor Corps are assisting in the current diabetes-detecting campaign sponsored by the Monroe County Medical Society.

Through the Red Cross office each day, they learn of which drug stores or physicians in Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Mount Pocono and Mountainhome have bottles for collection.

Motor Corps drivers then pick up the specimens and take them to the hospital where they are analyzed. They plan to continue throughout the week of the campaign.

Coroner Will Investigate Traffic Death

A coroner's investigation will be made in the death of a Moscow RD3 woman injured in a traffic accident near Milford a month ago, State police said yesterday.

Dead is Mrs. Mabel D. Steindel, 63, who expired at Scranton State Hospital Tuesday afternoon. She was injured in a two-car accident 12 miles south of Milford Oct. 17.

Mrs. Steindel's husband was at the wheel, police said. The other driver was reported as Franklin Ryder, 18, Dingmans Ferry, who was alone in his car, police said.

The 1:20 p.m. collision occurred head-on at the crest of a hill, troopers reported. Neither Ryder nor Steindel, 62, was hurt, police said.

Mrs. Steindel was treated at the office of a Milford physician, Dr. Jack S. Bullock, for fractured left ribs and bruises on the forehead, left knee and arm.

She was later admitted to St. Francis Hospital in Port Jervis. She was discharged, then readmitted to Scranton State Hospital as a surgical patient Nov. 5.

The investigation will be made by Acting Coroner Fred Kellog, police said.

Services for Mrs. Steindel will be Friday at a Moscow funeral home, with burial at Fairview Cemetery, Elmhurst.

Negotiators To Make New Effort To Settle Dispute

recommended fines levied on a few Cleveland employes for a union contract violation several years ago be reduced; the initiation fee be lowered and dues be cut. All three points, he said, were aimed at making it easier for Cleveland's men to join the union.

Paul again verified futile attempts to talk with Cleveland's men about joining. Cleveland reiterated yesterday he's willing to pay union wages, abide by all union rules and allow the men to work union hours but they don't want to sign up.

The key to the problem, as Bauxbaum said, is held by Cleveland. The union representative explained he felt if Cleveland stepped out of his contract, allowing a union firm to come in, he and his men would be performing a sacrifice and gain more respect from local residents.

Attempting to come up with a solution, J. Albert Groner asked Bauxbaum if Cleveland could form another company and employ union men on this job. The union representative said, "No, that would only be beating the devil around the bush," adding "it's still the same company as far as we're concerned."

Arlington Williams, who presided at the first meeting when, after two hours it was decided to have Bauxbaum come here, again held that seat yesterday. He at one time asked Bauxbaum if the union would waive its restrictions on this YMCA job and Bauxbaum said "I wouldn't waive it even if I had the power because this would reflect nationally."

Paul recalled the current picketing came only after union craftsmen already on the job walked off rather than work side-by-side with non-union employes of Cleveland who were due on the site at that time.

Cleveland, in one of the few times he spoke during the session, said, "I've been in business 13 years and all contractors have worked side-by-side." Paul disputed the statement but other corners firing questions at Bauxbaum halted the discussion.

At one point Paul said he had numerous telephone calls from union men who objected to one part of a newspaper story concerning last week's meeting in which he said it referred to union plumbers as being amateurs.

Cleveland said he thought this concerned his statement about the Newberry construction which he turned over to an out-of-area concern. Said Cleveland, "I called that group amateurs and I'll still back it up."

Windshield Frosted; Car Hits Truck

A frosted windshield was blamed for a truck-car collision on Route 611 north of Stroudsburg at 8 a.m. yesterday, resulting in the total loss of a 1938-model car and $300 damage to the truck.

Treated in the General Hospital dispensary, East Stroudsburg, was Joseph A. Foley, 25, of Bartonsville, who told Stroudsburg state police the heavy frost obscured his vision and his car crashed into the rear of a coal truck operated by Jacob J. Warner, 28, of Effort.

Foley was x-rayed for back and shoulder injuries, then discharged. Warner escaped without injury.

The truck, owned by John Lesoine, Stroudsburg, and the car were moving south on the highway near the drive-in theater when the accident occurred.

Bangor—The Gradale Sorority at this week's meeting discussed plans for the district rally to be held here next April. It was announced that Robert Baker, executive secretary, would appear at the next meeting.

The group made donations of $5 each to the Bee Hive youth center and the Salvation Army.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Sort of getting another Indian Summer thrown in this year. Maybe to make up for that snow storm—maybe just to set us up in order to knock us down with the worst Winter in history. Whatever it is, everybody seems to be thriving on it.

And each golden day means one day more toward Spring, and one more bucket of coal in the coal pile. And it probably also means sniffles and cough drops in many a household, to judge by the youngsters I saw running around in their T-shirts yesterday.

Seems they started out in the morning chill with flannel shirts, jackets and caps. But by noontime even the flannel shirts felt a little warm so down they stripped.

Reminds me of the days in early Spring when we used to stop around the first corner to pull the legs of the long underwear up above our knees where it made a lumpy doughnut under our brief skirts—but gave us a wonderful feeling of freedom.

And if you think that years automatically add common sense, you should have seen the grown-ups with their coats over their arms on the streets, or running out to the wash-line without a sweater, or standing in the back yard talking to their neighbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Drennan Jr.

Harry J. Drennan Jr. Takes Patricia Cullen As Bride

Of interest to local friends of the bridegroom is the marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Cullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cullen, Corry, Pa., to Harry John Drennan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry John Drennan Sr., Buck Hill Falls, which took place on Saturday, October 31, at Allentown.

The double ring service was performed at 11 a.m. by Rev. Joseph A. McGonigle at the Church of the Immaculate Conception which was beautifully decorated with large bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Paul Grimm, the organist, presented traditional selections and accompanied the soloist, Miss Marlin, when she sang "On This Day," "Ave Maria," and "I Love You Truly."

Mr. Cullen presented his daughter in marriage and she wore a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over bridal satin fashioned with a fitted lace bodice with a Peter Pan collar and full length sleeves with pointed wrists. Her finger tip veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and pompons centered with a white orchid.

The bride's sister, Miss Corinne Cullen, attended her as maid of honor wearing a floor length gown of turquoise taffeta designed with a portrait neckline. The full skirt was fashioned in a redingote effect over matching tulle and she wore a matching headdress. Her colonial bouquet was of yellow roses and pompons.

John Grillin Jr., a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man and Rodger Daniels, of Bethlehem, and Richard Bachofner, of Corry, ushered.

A wedding dinner and reception followed at the Village Inn. Guests attended from Long Island, Buffalo, Washington, D. C., Buck Hill Falls, Bethlehem and Corry.

For a wedding trip to Philadelphia the bride wore a blue mist colored suit with contrasting accessories and had a corsage of orchids.

The young couple are residing at 129 North 8th Street, Allentown.

The former Miss Cullen was graduated from Corry Senior High School in 1948 and had been employed at Washington, D. C. She is now affiliated with the Reeves Soundcraft Corp., Allentown.

Mr. Drennan is a graduate of Barrett High School, Cresco, and he served in the Navy during World War Two. He was graduated from Bloomsburg State Teachers College in 1950 and is presently employed with the Socony Vacuum Oil Company at Allentown.

Bereans To Entertain Crusaders

Bartonsville—The weather finally made it possible for the Berean Class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School, to hold its twice-postponed meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Trach, of Saylorsburg. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Marsh served as hosts at the meeting.

Mrs. Joseph Starner presided with the Scripture led by Mrs. Clyde Beehler, and reports given by Mrs. Samuel Dunbar and Mrs. Richard Metzgar.

Rev. John B. Bergstresser presented a review of the coming motion picture, "Martin Luther" and commending it to the members. Mrs. Starner showed the class memory book which has been completed with an inscription done by Frank Varney, of Brodheadsville.

Plans were made to entertain the Crusader Class and their families at a Christmas party at the parish house on Friday, December 4. The following committees were named to make arrangements. Refreshmenis, Mrs. Samuel Dunbar, Mrs. John Bergstresser, Mrs. Clyde Beehler and Mrs. Archie Ace; prizes, Mrs. Sally Harps; decorations, Mrs. Daisy Allegar and Mrs. Samuel Dunbar.

A belated birthday gift, an oil painting of a country scene, was presented to the hostess, Mrs. Marsh by members of the class. Refreshments were served buffet style with favors of candy and a small religious picture for each member.

Those in attendance were: Rev. and Mrs. John B. Bergstresser, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Trach and son, Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Starner, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dunbar, Mrs. Archie Ace, Mrs. Clyde Beehler, Mrs. Richard Metzgar, Mrs. Sally Harps, Mrs. Daisy Allegar and the hosts.

The next meeting of the class will be held January 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ace, Snydersville, with Mrs. Samuel Dunbar in charge of the devotions.

Wesleyan Guild Packs Baskets For Thanksgiving

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church held a busy session this week in the church parlor. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. William Gorton and were based on the Thanksgiving theme.

The president, Mrs. Philip Lee, requested each member to dress up a doll for Christmas. They will be placed on display, it was said.

Mrs. Robert Altemose, chairman of Christian social relations and local church activities, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Charles Albert, executive secretary of the Monroe County Children's Aid Society. Mrs. Albert presented colored slides and commented on the work and field being covered by the organization, which is a Red Feather agency.

Two Thanksgiving baskets, decorated by Mrs. Robert Altemose, were packed with food and will be distributed to needy families.

New members welcomed were: Mrs. James Wilson, Mrs. Thomas H. Mire, Mrs. Frank Bentzoni and Mrs. William Howell. Guests were Miss Ann G. Lutz, Mrs. Kenneth Reynolds and Mrs. Harold Stiff, president of the WSCS.

The table featured a centerpiece made from pine sprays with bittersweet and pine cones, also candles decorated with bittersweet. Hostesses were Mrs. William Savitz, Mrs. Chester Kortright and Mrs. William Henry.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

I am a firm believer in good food and lots of it. But quite as much as I appreciate a beautiful roast excellently prepared, and a tasty dessert, I enjoy the good fellowship that is—to me, at least—the most important part of a meal. It's very frustrating to me, and probably to a great many other parents, that children feel it their privilege to bolt their food and rush away.

In my opinion the evening repast should be a time of drawing close in family interests. It should be a good time to relate the amusing things that have happened during the hours at home, school or business. It is even more important to have laughter and good will around a table, than it is to have rich fare. And this is true, whether there's white damask and crystal, gleaming in the candlelight of "dinner," or just simple place mats and glass in the informal atmosphere of "supper."

I am almost positive that someone shares these thoughts—someone who is associated with Metlox, creator of distinguished California pottery, for "Happy Times" is the name of the new pattern now on display in our store. We acclaim both the name and the dinnerware as being completely charming. The pattern has much the same styling one finds in Pennsylvania Dutch ware, but the figures would probably be more appropriately described as Norwegian. A little girl and a boy are pictured in delicate colors against a creamy background, and there is a border of stylized flowers. A 16-piece starter set is priced at a modest $14.95.

You will appreciate the quality of this pottery, I am sure. You will also like the substantial look and feel of it, and the shape of the capacious cups. You all know the Metlox name, of course, for you've been admiring this company's Homestead Provincial pattern, "Poppy Trail" for quite a while. "Poppy Trail" is decorated with a farm scene, you'll recall, in deep green and wine tones against tan. In addition to this particular dinner set, with its unusually shaped cream pitcher and sugar bowl, we now carry the canister set at $24.95 and the very complete cruet set at $19.95. The square tops of the canisters are of a dark, waxed wood, with handles of pottery. The cruet set, with mustard jar, vinegar and oil bottles, and related pieces, revolved on a Lazy Susan of matching wood. Either of these sets would be welcomed in almost any home, whether or not "Poppy Trail" was used at table.

Meal times should be family times . . . times to build memories; times of eating well, feeling well, and enjoying the security that seems so truly ours whenever we have indulged in food and laughter. "Happy Days Are Here Again," the song writer says—and happy times are the times when we sit down together around a well laden table . . . a table set perhaps with "Happy Times."

In One Lifetime...

The number of telephones has grown from one to fifty million

This week the number of telephones in the United States reached fifty million, or one for about every three people.

What began as a line between two men in a Boston attic has, in the short span of seventy-seven years, come to play an important part in the lives of millions.

Today it is second nature for us to reach for the telephone. Whether we want to call across the street or across the country, the telephone is ready to take us there, quickly and conveniently. Day and night, at small cost, it keeps us in touch with the people we know and the people we need.

Serving the fifty million telephones in the United States are twenty Bell Telephone Companies like The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania—together with fifty-three hundred other telephone companies. They join together in commemorating this new milestone in telephone progress.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Basketball seems to have come alive once again in Monroe County, after last year's comparative lull. At Tuesday's Pocono Mountains Baseball League banquet at least five people inquired as to the possibility of bringing the Pocono Mountains Basketball League back into existance. According to unofficial reports there are teams ready to operate in Tannersville, Barrett, Pocono Pines and two communities in the West End section of the county. The big problem now appears to be the actual reforming of the circuit.

The Pocono Mountains Basketball League operated for several seasons until last year, when interest in this type baskethall appeared to be non-existent. In reforming the league this year the big task no doubt is to get someone to serve as president of the organization. in the past the Monroe County YMCA took an active hand in running the circuit, but with the YMCA in the middle of its current building campaign I doubt very much if it can handle the tough task this season. Al Sterner formerly served as president, and George Metropoulos, as secretary, but both have since left the YMCA for teaching fields.

A meeting of all interested teams is certainly needed to get the ball rolling, providing someone will step front and center to accept the presidency of the league. There are several men in the locality who would make fine leaders, providing would actually accept the position, wouldd actually accept the position. Last year's graduating classes in the area have been slow in entering the service, due to the reduction in draft quotas, and hence the return to interest in the PM basketball circuit. The fact that many Korean War veterans are returning to civilian life has helped return the circuit to interest.

There are two additional basketball squads operating in the Stroudsburgs this season too. Grand Theater, East Stroudsburg, and Stroudsburg A. A., Stroudsburg, are both entered in the Blue Mountain Basketball League. The A. A. contingent will play all its home games at Stroudsburg High, while the Grand Theater five will either use the Portland School court or the East Stroudsburg High hardwood as its home base. The team is still waiting for a decision on the latter floor.

It's sort of a shame that the sudden return of basketball to extremely popular interest had to occur this season, just when the locality is without one of its most used courts — that of the YMCA. As the present picture appears, it may be as many as two seasons before the new YMCA court will be ready for the youth of our locality. It not only is unfair to our youngsters, but also retards the development of good basketball teams at Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools.

If the Pocono Mountains Basketball League should be reformed this season, the vicinity high schools will undoubtedly allow the town teams to use their respective courts, as has been the case in the past. In order to get the ball rolling, I suggest that the interested parties hold a meeting at some central locality and decide on one or more men to head the circuit. After making the selection, a committee of one or more people can be named to contact that number one choice. If and when a president is selected, the battle is about 99.44 per cent complete.

Stroudsburg High's basketball team may be one of the best conditioned in the history of the school this year. According to information received by this corner Coach John Kupice adds two laps per player around the gym at each practice. If it were 20 laps last night, it'll be 22 tonight. Kupice's team in North Carolina last year won something like 26 games. Both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High will find their basketball squads almost doubled in size a week from next Monday, when members of both football teams make their first appearance of the season on the hardwood.

Members of the Monroe County Basketball League are busily preparing for their first season of basketball under the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association as a unit. The circuit will be out to displace Tobyhanna Township as the title holder this season. TTHS has won the crown for the past four years. The Danny Carnevale who was named manager of the Wilkes-Barre entry in the Eastern League next season, is the same shortstop who piloted Carbondale in 1948, when the class "D" North Atlantic League was in full bloom.

Jim Lemon, now the property of the Cleveland Indians and a graduate of Bloomingdale, North Atlantic League, is playing for Gavilanes, in the winter Venezuelan League. Emil Carlini, former outfielder with Carbondale and Nazareth, both of the North Atlantic League, is [illegible] down a fly chasing pe[illegible]co City, in the [illegible] ue. Bill Glynn [illegible], both of the C[illegible]s, are also on the [illegible] roster. Carlini rece[illegible] a homer to win a gam[illegible]de Lemon blasted two round trippers.

Blue Mountain League Honors Championship Teams

Four Players Also Presented With Trophies

Tatamy — Russ Van Atta, former southpaw pitcher with the New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns, brought home the importance of conduct on the baseball field by adults to some 200 people gathered here at the annual Blue Mountain Baseball League banquet last night. The turkey dinner was held at the fire house.

Van Atta, who pitched in 111 games in two years for the Browns, pointed out that youngsters copy the playing habits of adult baseball stars and that the older person is obligated to set an outstanding pattern.

The former Yankee hurler, now a business man in Franklin, N. J., urged players to keep cigarettes away from the playing field and in general conduct themselves to the best of their ability.

Van Atta relived many of his major league experiences and told of his close friendship with the late "Babe" Ruth. He advised fathers of sons looking forward to a baseball career of their many tasks to improve the boy's ability.

Steve Nagy, former hurler with the Washington Senators and now with Seattle, of the Pacific Coast League, also spoke briefly after Van Atta, pointing out that major leagues will some day find a home on the West Coast, but that California, Oregon and Washington aren't nearly ready for major league play at the present time.

Woodrow A. Jones, league president, spoke briefly and awarded the regular season championship trophy to Martin Creek. Martins Creek won the pennant in its first year in the circuit.

Individual Awards

Jones also presented smaller trophies to Bob Weiss and "Doc" Schaivone, number one and two pitchers in the league for the season just completed. Weiss, Martins Creek, won nine and lost one game, while Schiavone, Roseto, won 11 and lost two outings.

Fred Tedesco, vice president, gave the leading batter's trophies to Bill Williams, Tatamy, and Olympio "Patch" Pacchioli, Martins Creek. Williams hit at a snappy .458 clip last season and Pacchioli rang the bell with a .402 tabulation.

Tatamy received The Daily Record Trophy for winning the post-season playoff honors. Chet Huber, Tatamy manager, accepted the trophy presented by Jim Riley, sports editor of The Record. Huber made a short speech of thanks, as did Pacchioli, Martins Creek pilot, who accepted the regular season championship trophy.

Those guests introduced were Jack Kist, East Stroudsburg High baseball and football coach; Eddie Snyder, Easton High coach; Jim Schlegel, umpire assignor for the Blue Mountain League; Earl Rader, new baseball coach at Bangor High; Bob Kelly, sports writer for the Easton Express; Leonard Renaido and "Ducky" DeFrank, members of the Blue Mountain Umpires Association.

All teams were represented at the banquet except Pocono A. C., a team operating for the most part in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg. Those clubs represented were Portland, Tatamy, Martins Creek, Roseto and Johnsonville.

Rev. Floyd Shafer, Forks Reformed Church, delivered the invocation. Armon Williams, league secretary, served as toastmaster.

Dancing followed the meal and music was presented by the "6-teens."

Slaters Hit With Wave Of Injuries

Bangor — Bangor High began practice this week for its Thanksgiving Day football game with Pen Argyl High faced with the possibility of playing its arch foe without two and possibly three first string performers.

Eddie Mugavero, quarterback and kicking specialist, reinjured an already bad left leg against Hellertown and it is very doubtful whether or not he will face the Green Wave a week from today.

Nick Castellucci, one of the smallest, but best, guards in the entire area, is on the sidelines with a strained back muscle and probably won't see action against Pen Argyl.

Question

Jack Stenlake, recently groomed to fill in for the injured Jack Finelli, is out with torn knee ligaments, but it is hoped he may be ready for Pen Argyl, although his case is also doubtful.

Finelli and Lou Casciano, two of Bangor's brightest stars, are already out of action with broken leg and ankle bones.

Rodney Miller, hurt in last week's Hellertown game, is ready to operate once again, as are Mike DeVito and Ray Heaney. DeVito and Heaney missed the Hellertown encounter with injuries.

In order to make up for the loss of several varsity starters, Coach Granville Evans promoted nine players from the junior varsity ranks this week.

The group includes Glen Heard, back; Sam Heard, end; Keith Jones, end; Joe Campanaro, end; Nick F. Martocci, tackle; Don Farole, guard; Kermit Labar, tackle; Charley Woolley, tackle, and Fred DeFrank, back.

Bangor opened drills for Pen Argyl on Tuesday of this week and will run right through next Wednesday, when a light workout will be held.

Litwhiler To Pilot Falcons

Jamestown, N. Y. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers have switched managers for 1954 between their Wilkes-Barre club in the class "A" Eastern League and their Jamestown entry in the class "D" Pony League.

The appointment of Danny Carnevale, whose Jamestown Falcons won the Pony League flag this year by 18 and one-half games, as manager of the Wilkes-Barre Barons was announced Tuesday night in Wilkes-Barre.

Announcement

Yesterday, the Falcons announced that Danny Litwhiler, who managed the Barons this year, had been named to lead the Falsons in 1954.

Litwhiler, 36, spent 14 years in the major leagues as a third baseman and outfielder.

Pitt Scout Praises Grier

Pittsburgh, (AP) — Scout Ernie Hefferle of the University of Pittsburg describes Roosevelt Grier of Penn State, Pitt's football opponent here Saturday, as a "one-man iron curtain of pass protection."

Statement

"Nobody gets through him," Hefferle said. "Nobody pushes him around."

Grier plays left tackle for Penn State. He's listed on the roster as six feet five and 235 pounds. But Hefferle said he appears to weigh at least 250.

Harper New Champion

Calgary, Alta., (AP)—Doug Harper of Calgary is the new Canadian light heavyweight boxing champion. He outpointed the defending titleholder, Yvon Durelle of Baie Ste. Anne, N. B., in a 12-round bout Tuesday night. Harper weighed 172½, Durelle 169½.

Who's Going To Manage Brooklyn?

New York, (AP)—Who is going to manage Brooklyn? The Dodger guessing game is sweeping the town. Lucky Buck, Scrabble and office polls are old hat. Even "Chuck" Dressen, the ex-manager, got in on the act.

Almost everybody out of a job, except Harry Truman, has been mentioned as "the leading candidate" by some shadowy source. Everybody, that is, except Rogers Hornsby. Nobody came up with that one—yet.

Three New York morning papers yesterday came up with three different names. An afternoon paper featured byline articles by its three baseball writers on "I'd like to see—manage the Dodgers."

If Walter O'Malley, the club president, and his two vice presidents, "Buzzy" Bavasi and Fresco Thompson, want publicity, they're getting it. Now that the local football season is about finished, they can have the run of the street.

In the face of the recurrent rumors, O'Malley stands firm. "No manager has been named," he said. "I don't know when we will decide. I can't tell you how many are under consideration. When we make our choice, we'll call a press conference and let (not leave) you know."

This has been the Dodger stand all the way. The story that "Pee Wee" Reese declined a player-manager job leaked out. No other names have been mentioned officially.

Ken Smith, in the New York Daily Mirror, yesterday reported Walter Alston, Montreal manager, would get the job according to "a source close to the Ebbets Field inner headquarters."

The New York Daily News' Dick Young got on the phone to call Bill Terry at his auto agency in Jacksonville, Fla., to learn Terry might be interested in a two-year (but no one-year) contract.

Young quoted Terry as saying, "I have not been approached but even if he (O'Malley) was interested in me, I wouldn't be interested in a deal like a one-year contract."

Roscoe McGowen, for many years the New York Times' man on the Dodger beat, wrote that Fresco Thompson, the veepee in chargee of farm clubs, had become the leading, but reluctant, candidate.

In the afternoon paper field, Jerry Mitchell of the New York Post reported "Cookie" Lavagetto, former coach and player, held the greatest fan appeal in terms of letters received at the Brooklyn office.

The World Telgram and Sun polled its own baseball writers and came up with three different choices.

Dan Daniel chose Eddie Sawyer "because he is familiar with the National League, is a good disciplinarian, knows how to handle men and has a pennant background."

Joe King picked "Lefty" O'Doul for his World Series potential on the basis of "magnetic leadership" and a fine job in past Pacific Coast League playoffs.

Bill Roeder selected Jackie Robinson because of baseball sense, leadership, familiarity with team, "Winningness" and ability to provide good copy for the writers.

And that's not all. Frankie Frisch, Billy Herman, Luke Sewell, Marty Marion. In fact, pick a name.

Our candidate? That's easy. Jack Pitler (ex-coach).

Bucceroni Stops Beshore In Eight

Los Angeles, (AP)—Favored Dan Bucceroni, a ranking heavyweight contender from Philadelphia, used aging Freddie Beshore of Los Angeles for a punching bag for seven rounds last night and then stopped him on a technical knockout in the eighth. Bucceroni weighed 188½ and Beshore 194.

A national audience of television fans saw the scheduled 10 round fight but only a smattering of several thousand ventured into the Olympic Auditorium to witness it in person.

Referee Joe Stone halted the slaughter at two minutes, 41 seconds of the eighth round and spared the 31-year-old Californian from further punishment.

Attack

Bucceroni, 26, had almost removed Freddie's head from his sturdy shoulders with a relentless, two-fisted attack. Beshore was bleeding from the nose and the left eye, and his left side was a ripe red from glove burns.

Fleshy Freddie actually gave the 4-1 favored easterner a rugged argument most of the way but the outcome was never much in doubt. Bucceroni's sharp combination punching repeatedly mastered Beshore.

The crowding, weaving style of boxing by Beshore served to protect his heavy midsection but it left him vulnerable to the head-hunting Philadelphian.

Iowa End Wins Award

Iowa City, Iowa, (AP)—Iowa's big Bill Fenton, whose rugged end play in Iowa's unexpected top-heavy 27-0 victory over Minnesota earned him honors as the Associated Press Lineman of the Week, is hoping for another Hawk-eye surprise against Notre Dame Saturday.

Hopeful

The senior end, who blends exceptional pre-medical school grades with outstanding athletic ability, said "we definitely have a chance against Notre Dame."

The Iowa City boy grew up around the university athletic plant.

He captained the 1952 team and last year was selected as AP's Lineman of the Week for his part in Iowa's 8-0 shock of Ohio State.

Marion Still Looking For Job

St. Louis, (AP)—Marty Marion, dismissed last week as manager by the Baltimore Orioles, said yesterday he has received no baseball offers and has not contacted anyone about a job in baseball.

Doubts

Marion added the vacant managership of the Brooklyn Dodgers would be a "ready-made job" but that he doubted he would be considered.

Atlanta Names Wyatt

Atlanta, (AP)—The Atlanta baseball club of the Class AA Southern Assn., yesterday named Whitlow Wyatt, former major league pitcher, as its 1954 manager.

Rival Bands To March As Unit

Bands of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High Schools will march as one unit at halftime on Thanksgiving Day, just as they did last year, it was announced last night by John Pyle, director of the Stroudsburg musical unit.

The bands will appear at the halfway break in the traditional Turkey Day grid battle between Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High Schools. The game is being held at Gordon Giffels Field and the kickoff is slated for 10 a.m.

Program

Each band will form its own letters and play its own Alma Mater.

The traditional cross will be formed as a unit.

A combined rehearsal of the two bands will take place on Monday, starting at 1 p.m.

Both the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg football teams, and their respective coaching staffs, will be guests of the Rotary Club at lunch today, at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. Lunch is scheduled for noon.

Gonzales, Sedgman Reach Net Finals

London, (AP)—Favored Dick Gonzales of Los Angeles and Australia's Frank Sedgman advanced to the finals of the international indoor professional tennis championships with straight set victories yesterday. They will meet for the title tomorrow night.

Scores

Gonzales, winner of this Wembley Stadium tournament for three straight years, defeated little Pancho Segura of Ecuador, 6-1, 9-7, 7-5, after Sedgman had beaten 38-year-old Don Budge of New York, 7-5, 6-0, 6-1.

Bangor High Football Teams To Be Guests At Banquet

Bangor—Bangor High School's football team will be honored at an annual banquet presented by the Bangor Exchange Club, here at the Blue Valley Farm Show building, tonight.

A crowd of some 140 people is expected to be present at the dinner which gets under way at approximately 6:30 p. m.

Harold O'Dell, coach of football at Bangor High in 1930 and 1931, will be the guest speaker at tonight's affair.

First Visit

O'Dell, now principal at Montclair, N. J., High School, will be paying his first visit to Bangor since coaching the Slaters in football, which included a pair of victories over Pen Argyl. O'Dell also played semi-pro football while coaching the sport at Bangor.

Included in the large crowd will be 34 members of the varsity and junior varsity grid machines at Bangor and 20 men who played under O'Dell when he guided the Slaters in football.

The Bangor High coaching staff will also be present.

Marvin DePamphiles will serve as toastmaster and Armon Williams, Bangor High teacher, will introduce the guest speaker.

Grandma Hits Grid Jackpot

Wheeling, W. Va., (AP)—An elderly grandmother who's never seen a football game won the Wheeling News-Register's weekly football forecasting contest with a perfect score.

Judges finished examining more than 1,000 entries yesterday and found nobody was even close to Mrs. Margaret Hoffman.

Surprise

The 14 selections ranged from local high school contests to games between major college elevens.

Among her selections were South Carolina over West Virginia and Alabama over Georgia Tech, two of the major upsets last week.

Mrs. Hoffman's prize was a 17-jewel watch.

Basketball Officials To Meet

A meeting of the Stroudsburg Chapter of Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association officials is scheduled to be held tomorrow at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The meeting is scheduled to take place at 7:30 p. m., it was announced last night by Tom Leonard, Stroudsburg chapter president.

Plans

Plans for the coming season and interpretation of new rules are chief topics of business on the agenda.

Leonard also pointed out last night that Mark Funk, PIAA director, has ruled that all officials must attend 80 per cent of their yearly chapter meetings.

Tigers Add Rowe To Coaching Staff

Detroit (AP)—The Detroit Tigers yesterday confirmed they have completed their coaching staff for next season with the addition of "Schoolboy" Rowe.

Replacements

Rowe, a 24-game winner for the Tigers in 1934, joined Johnny Hopp and Bob Swift on Detroit's staff. Rowe and Hopp replaced Ted Lyons and Rick Ferrell, who were released after last season.

Steelers Hope To Upset Pro Browns

Pittsburgh (AP)—Coach Joe Bach of the Pittsburgh Steelers says his outfit, though it has but a 4-4 National Football League record, may surprise the all-winning Cleveland Browns in next Sunday's game here.

The Browns already have beaten the Steelers 34-16 in their first encounter of the season but Bach declared yesterday "There's no defeatist attitude" among the Pittsburgh players.

High Feeling

"They all have the feeling the Browns are not invincible," the Steeler coach declared. "We may give them a surprise. I know that if quarterback Jimmy Finks is hitting on his passes we'll give them plenty of trouble."

The Browns, winners of eight consecutive games without a loss, have never lost a game to the Steelers.

Snavely Pleased With New Coaching Home

St. Louis, (AP)—Carl Snavely, football's Grey Fox who left "big-time" coaching at North Carolina to take charge at Washington University of St. Louis, has found a Shangri-la, and he has no intention of leaving.

"I like it here, said the 58-year-old master who has won six of eight games with the Bears so far. "I'm not sorry I came. And I have no ambition to go back."

"There are coaching problems here, too, but not as many," said Snavely, who coached at North Carolina in the mid-30s, left for Cornell and returned to the Tarheels in 1945.

Recruiting

The riff that caused his resignation last year centered on recruiting and fund-raising ordeals. The emphasis on such matters seemed to overshadow his role as coach, Snavely said.

"The emphasis on winning was too great at North Carolina," he said. "You're still confronted with a game every week here, but you don't have the desperate, absolutely unyielding demand for victory."

"A defeat here is not a financial disaster. No alumni, with private interests in the team, present a problem."

But that, Snavely added, is just a part of big-time coaching. Particularly when, like North Carolina, who have what he terms a "money schedule."

"Football must show a profit at the big school," Snavely explained, "and so you have to arrange a schedule that will bring in money. But you have to win and play interesting football to make that kind of a schedule."

Johnson, Wright To Headline Boxing Program In Hershey Tonight; Preliminaries Slated

Hershey—Indoor major league boxing will continue tonight when Promoter Pete Moran stages his all-star fistic program. The pugilistic impressario who put on a previous ring thriller with Gil Turner outfighting Johnny Lombardo in the main event this past summer.

Having already shown Philadelphia's leading welterweight and middleweight challenger, Moran is unveiling the number one contender for the light heavyweight and heavyweight laurels in Philadelphia's classy and dangerous hitting Harold Johnson. Johnson, a menace for the titles owned by Archie Moore in the 175 pound class and "Rocky" Marciano in the heavyweight division, will take on sturdy and dangerous hitting "Chubby" Wright, of Reading, over the 10 round voyage.

The Philadelphian won all of his bouts this year, having defeated such luminaries as former heavyweight king Ezzard Charles, Toxie Hall, Jimmy Slade, Billy Gilliam, Nino Valdez, also a conqueror of Ezzard Charles, and only as recently as November 7, he soundly thrashed Henry Hall at Milwaukee. He will seek to make it seven victories, without a setback, at the expense of Wright.

Winner

Clouting "Chubby" is also a winner of all of his 1953 engagements. He battered such worthies as "Rocky" Jones, recent winner over Roland LaStarza, Lulu Sabatin and Art Swiden. Wright will be anxious to keep his win streak alive and at the same time knock Johnson off the pedestal as a menace for two ring crowns.

Archie Moore, king of the light heavyweights, is expected to be at the ringside tonight to watch his number one challenger in action. Furthermore, Johnson is the leather pusher who dealt out Archie's most recent setback.

Trenton's spectacular George Johnson, who is eyeing both the welterweight and middleweight titles, as well as a shot at Gil Turner, sees action in the eight round semi-final listed as a co-feature. Johnson, who knocked out Ike Williams, former lightweight champion, and decisioned the highly regarded Luther Rawlings, of Chicago, and battered Al Warner this year, will take on dangerous game in Billy Whye, Philadelphia's terrific punching 150 pounder. Whye is highly regarded as a perfect trial horse for fistmen anxious to make the grade. His deadly left hook and uppercuts have knocked ambitions out of many ringmen who thought they would use him as a means of rising to the top.

Welterweights

A pair of free swinging welterweights, Emmett Norris, of Harrisburg, and "Choo Choo" Benson, stablemate of Gil Turner and a Philadelphian, swap haymakers in the six round main preliminary.

Marty Feldman, Philadelphia knockout artist, meets Frankie Romano, Reading middleweight, in the second event, a four rounder.

Lightweights Billy Walker, of Philadelphia, and Leonard Scott, of Reading, collide in the four round opener. This will be the first pro battle for each, both having made good reps in the amateurs.

Wide Open Fight Rages For Individual Statistical Honors

New York, (AP)—With most league teams heading into their final game of the season, there still is a wide open battle for all individual statistical honors in the Eastern Intercollegiate Football Association.

Not one of the leaders is assured of ending the season on top. Columbia's Dick Carr leads in total offense with 1,034 yards, but Royce Flippin of Princeton is threatening with 1,009 yards.

Joe Ujobai of Gettysburg leads in rushing, 606 yards to 560 for Hofstra's Tom Nunziata.

Three are scrapping for the passing honors, led by Penn State's Tony Rados with 68 completions. Carr is second with 67, followed by Pat Stark of Syracuse with 63.

Deadlock

As for pass receiving, Dartmouth's Dave McLaughlin and Fordham's Andy Nacrelli are tied with 28 catches each. Jim Garrity of Penn State and Dale Hopp of Columbia have 27 and 26, respectively. Nacrelli has the edge here, with two games to play.

Jack Sudol of Albright leads in punting with an average of 41.3 yards, but Walt Hynoski of Penn has averaged 40.4 yards and Harvard's Dick Clasby, 40-2 yards.

Army is the team leader in offense with 359.1 yards per game, followed by Gettysburg with 332.8 yards. Hofstra is number one in defense, yielding 159.9 yards per game, to 184.5 for Gettysburg.

Lafayette is the rushing leader with 255.9 yards per game, to 236.9 for Army. Dartmouth has 168 yards per game to lead in passing.

Basketball Meeting

Easton—A meeting of the Blue Mountain Basketball League will take place here at the Weston Club today. The meeting is scheduled for 8 p. m.

Racing Head Refuses To Take Action

Columbus, (AP)—President of the U. S. Trotting Association Lawrence B. Sheppard said yesterday the association would take no disciplinary action against trainer-driver Del Miller for an alleged attack on a sports writer in a hotel lobby November 12.

Sheppard gave his decision in a telegram to Ed Binneweg, secretary of the U. S. Harness writers Association. Binneweg had sent the USTA office here the text of a writers association resolution urging prompt disciplinary action against Miller for an alleged "unwarranted physical attack" on Jack Schultz, harness writer for Newsday, a newspaper in Garden City N. Y., and a vice president of the writers association.

Attack

The alleged attack took place in a Harrisburg, Pa., hotel lobby.

Sheppard did accede to Binneweg's request that a representative of the writers association be permitted to appear before the full board of directors of the USTA to present details of the case.

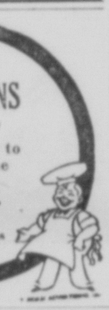

Sheppard's message read, in part:

"Your telegram referred to our legal counsel, who advises me that our rules and by-laws do not cover altercations between members of this association and others in hotel lobbies removed from the grounds of a member track at which a race meeting is in progress . . . ."

Miller, whose home is at Meadow Lands, Pa., won the 1950 Hambletonian with Lusty Song. He now is in Orlando, Fla., where he said he had no comment on the incident.

WATERFOWL DECOY ARRANGEMENT TIPS

11-19

DON'T FACE ALL DECOYS IN THE SAME DIRECTION. USE FORE-AND-AFT ANCHORS ON SOME OF THEM TO KEEP THEM FACING DIFFERENT DIRECTIONS AS OTHERS SWING WITH WIND CHANGES.

KEEP "PUDDLE DUCK" DECOYS SCATTERED APART. "DIVING-DUCK" DECOYS MAY BE SET IN A "V" OR OTHER FORMATIONS.

USE ONLY GOOSE DECOYS FOR GEESE. THEY ARE WARY OF DUCK DECOYS. BUT GOOSE DECOYS, MIXED WITH DUCK, BRING IN THE DUCKS. KEEP GOOSE DECOYS FACING THE WIND, ESPECIALLY THOSE STAKED ON THE GROUND.

Senators To Drop Several Farm Clubs

By Herb Altschull

Washington, (AP)—The Washington Senators, severely shaken financially by farm club losses, pushed ahead yesterday with an extensive overhaul of their minor league affiliations.

Ossie Bluege, director of the club's farm system, said "this is by no means a Washington problem alone. It's of national scope. All baseball is suffering because of attendance problems in the minors."

Like others, Bluege viewed the attendance losses as resulting from the impact of television. "People, it seems, would rather watch big league ball on their TV sets than go out to minor league parks.

Undetermined

Bluege said the Senators have not yet determined just how much money they lost in their farm operations last year. But he said "it'll be several hundred thousand dollars. You can be sure of that."

As a starter, the Senators are seeking ways to dispose of their Orlando club in the class "D" Florida State League. Working agreements with Scranton, Pa., of the class "A" Eastern League, and Bluefield, W. Va., of the class "D" Appalachian League, are being ended.

Bluege said the National Association of Minor League Clubs, headed by George Trautman, plans to make a recommendation on what to do about the minors, how to realign the setup and in general tighten up the minor league system.

Oklahoma Back Leads In Scoring Race

New York, (AP) — An eligibility ruling and possibly the return to one-platoon football have produced major college football's closest individual scoing race since the pre-platoon days of 1938.

The ruling sent Joe Ulm of San Jose State to the sidelines after he had scored 11 touchdowns in four games. It took until last Saturday for the others to catch up with Ulm.

Larry Grigg of Oklahoma and Earl Lindley of Utah State finally did the trick, NCAA Service Bureau statistics revealed yesterday, and as a result of Ulm's ineligibility only 10 points separate the 10 top scorers in major college ranks.

Touchdowns

Grigg scored two touchdowns in Oklahoma's 47-0 rout of Iowa State to go into the lead with 72 points on 12 touchdowns. Lindley also scored two touchdowns last Saturday, bringing his total to 11 touchdowns, plus three conversions for 69 points.

Five others have matched the ineligible Ulm's mark of 11 touchdowns and 66 points. They are Paul Cameron, UCLA; Bobby Watkins, Ohio State; Mickey Bates, Illinois; Fred Mahaffey, Denver, and Gene Gatewood, Drake.

National leaders in other notable individual departments include Ken Buck, College of the Pacific, and Jack Carson, Georgia, in pass receiving; Dick Lackey, North Carolina, and "Zeke" Bratkowski, Georgia, in punting, and Paul Giel, Minnesota, and Joe Mastrogiovanni, Wyoming, in versatility.

For this season alone, Giel ranks second to Mastrogiovanni, the nation's total offense leader, in plays, 303 to 311, and in all yardage gained (including runbacks), 1,615 yards to 1,658.

Varsity 'E' Club Meets Tuesday

A meeting of the Varsity "E" Club, an organization supporting athletics at East Stroudsburg High school, will be held in the N. Courtland St. school building next Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m.

Business

Several topics of business are on the agenda, but number one on the list will be the East Stroudsburg High-Alumni basketball game carded for Tuesday, December 11. A dance is scheduled to follow the game.

IBW Bowlers Clash

The International Boiler Works League swings into its bowling action on the George N. Kemp American Legion Post alleys today, at 7 p. m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Sisco vs. Butts.

Alleys three and four—Lockard vs. Kitchen.

Americans Trounce Aussies

Sydney, (AP)—Australia's Davis Cup tennis problem was emphasized clearly yesterday after the defeat of Mervyn Rose and Rex Hartwig by America's top doubles combination—Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert—in the semi-finals of the New South Wales Championship.

The U. S. pair, battling hard at the White City courts after being down 4-6, 2-5, rallied to defeat the Australians 4-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-4.

Shocked

Many Australians were shocked by the relatively easy American victory. Rose and Hartwig looked to be the top doubles combination against the United States in the cup challenge round at Melbourne December 28-30, permitting Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad to rest for the singles competition.

A further line on the chances of the U. S. to regain the coveted international tennis trophy will come today in the singles semi-finals when Trabert, the U. S. national champion, meets Hoad, and Seixas, Wimbledon titleholder, plays Rosewall.

Three Matches Listed

Three matches are listed for the Monroe County League today at Harmon's Recreation at 9 p. m.

Alleys one and two — CLU vs. Gem Lunch.

Alleys three and four—Mt. Tom Inn vs. Al Besecker's Diner.

Alleys five and six—Johnnie's Inn vs. Besecker's Diner.

Navy Makes Line Change For Army

Annapolis, Md., (AP) Navy uncovered a football weapon especially aimed at Army yesterday and it turned out to be Steve Eisenhauer, the Middies' best known threat in the first place.

For the big battle Saturday afternoon next, Eisenhauer will fire at the Cadets from the position in which he maneuvered to All-America prominence last season.

Coach Eddie Erdelatz disclosed he "wouldn't be a bit surprised" if Eisenhauer shifted back into Navy's defensive line when the academies clash at Philadelphia.

Technically, the move is from left guard to right. In practice it means that instead of backing up the center of the line, the Navy's "Ike" will step right into the forward wall. He won a place on the first-string defensive All-America while playing there, at the hub of Erdelatz's five-man line.

Switch

The switch to one-platoon football this year caused the Navy coach to make the most of his material by transferring Eisenhauer into the close secondary. His role hasn't been as spectacular. The duties, which Eisenhauer had to learn from the beginning, are different.

On offensive, it means only that the 200-pound senior from Sheffield, Pa., will work from the opposite side of center Dick Olson. On defense, Erdelatz hopes the change means that Navy's first line of defense will be quicker and stronger to cope with Army's fast getaway.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1953

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Some adverse tendencies for other than routine tasks. Extra effort will naturally help, but don't allow conditions to irritate; that will only confuse things. Calmness best.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Some minor opposition, but don't let it discourage you. Take things in stride; maintain an even disposition, and you will succeed.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Sidestep a tendency toward unwise speculations, unsound propositions. Make your day a worthy one; whether or not you accomplish, be it said you tried.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—No impulsive decisions or hasty words, folks! A realistic, down-to-earth attitude and disposition needed. Might take inventory of your past, present outlook!

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Adverse tendencies can be counteracted by grit, the will to achieve and intelligent thinking. You may be under some pressure in early hours; mark time until tense period is over.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—You may have to compromise, combine resources to outwit possible contention from unexpected places, people. Incentive should exist; you have mastered many obstacles before; why not again?

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Reward is so satisfying you should step out and repeat past gains. Progress will be measured by your own persistency. P. M. brighter period for personal matters, home, family.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Not a good period in which to go all-out in money speculation or to make binding contracts. Caution is day's keyword. Handle romance, personal associations most thoughtfully.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—If you are inept or satisfied with inadequate progress now you may find it rough going later. Be honest with yourself and with those with whom you deal. Improvement due in evening.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Be alert, especially in money matters, stock investments; double-check. Be sure you are thinking soundly. Avoid arguments, combativeness.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Size up your problems carefully; aspects are not entirely auspicious. Seek help and advice from right sources and those close to you. Evening favors personal interests, home matters.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Avoid taking chances with property or health, especially in bad weather. Appraise actions with keenness; seek opinion from those qualified before going ahead. Use your intelligence.

YOU BORN TODAY possess keen intelligence but tend to allow suspicious, skeptical thoughts to lead you astray. You have grit, fine idealism, determination, so ask God to guide you rightly and there is hardly a height you cannot reach. Strike a happy medium, avoid waste, and do not take on needless burdens. Be ever encouraged. Birthdate of: James A. Garfield, 20th U. S. President.

Sheriff Buys Feinsilber Residence

Sheriff and Mrs. Jacob F. Altemose, Stroudsburg, have purchased a residence at N. Eighth and Scott Sts., Stroudsburg, according to deeds recorded yesterday at the Courthouse.

Grantors were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Feinsilber, Stroud Township.

Pennsylvania Power and Light Co., with headquarters at Allentown, bought two tracts on Phillips St. near N. Eighth St., Stroudsburg, from Mr. and Mrs. Lester Katz, Stroudsburg.

Mrs. Robinson Becomes Citizen

Mrs. Tom Robinson, Stroudsburg RD2, was given the oath of American citizenship yesterday by prothonotary James Gould at the courthouse.

The order admitting Mrs. Robinson, a former Canadian, to citizenship was signed by President Judge Fred W. Davis.

Youngsters To Hear Doebling

An open meeting for youngsters interested in field and stream sports will be held at the Stroudsburg Municipal Building tonight under sponsorship of Pocono Mountains Sportsmen's Association.

Whether or not they are members of the Junior Sportsmen's group, the youngsters are invited to be present at 7 p.m. to hear a talk by John Doebling, game protector for this region.

Mr. Doebling will discuss species of game found in the county, stocking methods, general feeding habits, cover, identification and many other educational features of small and large game.

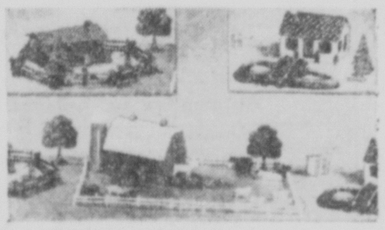

The 1954 membership cards and buttons will be available at the meeting of senior sportsmen.

"Stroudsburg Is The Place To Do Your Christmas Shopping"

Shop Early . . . Here's Why

★ YOU'LL FIND COMPLETE STOCKS OF MERCHANDISE

You can do your Christmas shopping before all the choice items are picked over. Stocks are more complete than for many years due to the fact that merchants started their shopping early and now have full stocks for your selection.

★ YOU HAVE TIME TO COMPARE VALUES, SAVE MONEY

Hasty gift buying often brings regret and disappointment. It is much better to shop leisurely when you have time to thoroughly inspect gifts you are buying. You will have more time to compare values if you start your Christmas buying early.

★ CLERKS CAN GIVE YOU MORE ATTENTION

Stroudsburg salespeople are prepared for this Christmas Season. They are eager, alert and ready to serve you. They have more time to serve you now than when the last-minute rush is on.

★ PRICES ARE RIGHT IN STROUDSBURG

Check the prices in the Stroudsburg Stores. You will find that they are no more expensive than the big city "bargains." In most instances you will find that you can buy at home for less than out of town.

★ YOU'LL HAVE TIME FOR CHRISTMAS PREPARATION

For maximum enjoyment of Christmas, we must create the atmosphere. We need to decorate, clean-up, brighten-up, decorate the Christmas Tree, place the lights in the windows, etc. You'll miss the added joy of the season if you put it off too long.

Bond Sales Quadruple 1952's Rate

Sale of series E and H treasury bonds in Monroe County during October 1953 was more than four times the total for the same period last year.

According to a report released yesterday, Monroe County residents bought $117,093 worth of the bonds last month. Total sale for October 1952 was $26,268.

E. H. Wyckoff is chairman of the county bond sale drive.

Monroe County's increased showing was part of an overall rise in bond sales throughout the State. Statewide increases amounted to an average of only 25 percent, however.

Part of the increase was attributed by State officials to renewed use of the payroll savings plan by both large and small industries.

Total State sales last month were $33,429,602 as opposed to $26,707,971 for October 1952.

What, Not Again?

It's Turkey Menu Again Thanksgiving Day For American Soldiers All Over World

By Arthur Edson

Washington (AP) — All over the world, U.S. soldiers may as well face up to this fact: On Thanksgiving Day, whether they like it or not, the main dish for their main meal will be turkey.

That goes for the soldiers in Korea who claim they have had so much turkey lately they would as soon sit down to a Thanksgiving feast of—you'll pardon the expression—boiled eel and turnip greens.

The horrible plight of the overturkeyed Eighth Army came up yesterday in a story from Seoul, by Associated Press Correspondent William C. Barnard.

Barnard quoted men who said they had been eating turkey as often as three times a week. And so, when the announcement came it would be turkey again this Thanksgiving. Barnard found this reaction:

"You could hear the wail in tent and bunker: 'Oh, no, not turkey again — anything, even boiled eel or turnip greens'."

Which certainly must be the most astonishing wail ever wailed from tent and bunker.

Naturally, in view of all this, the fellows at the quartermaster corps were asked, how come?

Unfortunately, their answer is that they don't know how come.

"Our master menu," one fellow said, "calls for turkey to be served not more than once a month. This follows our national pattern, for turkey now is served the year around in most homes. We do not consider turkey once a month to be excessive."

He admitted, though, that a GI who could become enthusiastic over turkey once a month might not be able to take it if it appeared three times a week.

Another fellow explained how each area commander — like housewife—is guided by costs, by what's available and by what's stashed away in the icebox.

"That's why," the quartermaster fellow said, "we keep getting letters from some GI who complains he's never served anything but scrambled eggs for breakfast, or that some other item keeps bobbing up on the menu."

But this fellow confessed that, so far as he knows, this is the first time in military history that the troops have complained that they were overturkeyed.

"Very interesting," he said.

But nevertheless, he said, the Army will follow tradition everywhere, and serve turkey on Thanksgiving.

"I know how some of these guys operate," the quartermaster man said. "The same guy who hollers about having so much turkey would be the first one to yell, 'Where's the turkey?' If we ever served a Thanksgiving dinner without it. He'd complain then about no turkey, even if he had had turkey for breakfast."

Chins up, men. The turkeys are coming.

Study Council To Discuss School Topic

Lehigh Valley Study Council will hold a special meeting on Monday, Nov. 30 at 7:30 p. m. at Muhlenberg College, Allentown.

Under discussion will be "larger school administration," according to John C. Litts, Monroe County school superintendent, and Walter Sebring, assistant.

John M. Lumley, deputy superintendent of public instruction, Harrisburg, will be the main speaker, assisted by members of his staff.

Members of the council are administrative officers in county offices and schools. All members in Monroe County are urged to attend, Sebring said, and to invite school directors to attend the meeting with them.

The council is made up of eight counties: Monroe, Schuylkill, Berks, Lehigh, Carbon, Northampton, Bucks and Montgomery.

Churches Ask Subsidies For U. S. Housing

Washington (AP)—A group representing 35 million Protestants and Orthodox Church members yesterday called on all branches of government to subsidize housing for low income Americans.

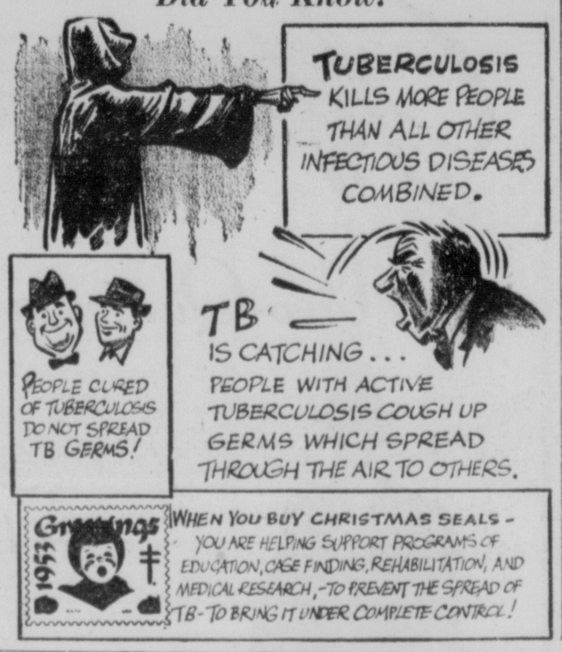

The General Board of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA adopted by a show of hands a statement supporting the "general principle of assistance by federal, state and local governments in the solution of the national housing problem."

There was only scattered opposition to the move.

The statement said sound planning of a housing program should contribute to slum clearance, urban redevelopment, modernization of "outmoded, restrictive," building codes, and "subsidized housing for the low-income portion of the population."

General Hospital Laboratory Cooperating In Countywide Diabetes Detection Campaign

Monroe County is going to have its most successful diabetes detection drive this year, Dr. Walter Caulfield and Dr. Marshall Metzgar, campaign co-chairman predicted yesterday.

In addition to organizations and business establishments announced earlier as cooperating, the laboratory of General Hospital—Dr. M. J. Leitner, director—has volunteered to conduct screening tests to find undetected diabetics.

"This help is most welcome," Dr. Caulfield said. "The medical profession alone can't possibly find every case of unknow diabetes. Cooperation of civic, business and labor leaders and of private citizens in all capacities is needed to make Diabetes Week a success.

"The public apparently is beginning to realize something the doctors have known for a long time—that diabetes is a dangerous condition that can occur at any time to anybody. Though often 'silent' in the sense that it may reveal no alarming symptom, it is nevertheless dangerous — unless put under proper medical control.

"Since diabetes can be controlled nowadays, it is most unfortunate to have any case go untreated because it is undetected. Yet we know there are a million undetected diabetics in the United States—some of them no doubt here in our own community. The object of this drive is to find these people and guide them to the care they need. We welcome the active help of anyone in accomplishing that—and it is gratifying to receive so much cooperation.

"Take all specimens at any time during week to the office of any physician or drug store in Monroe County. These samples must contain name and address of sender, also name of physician to be notified in case a positive test is found.

The National Research Council's Food and Nutrition Board has defined seven basic food groups that should guide planning for balanced meals. The diabetic's diet merely needs greater care, in accordance with rules laid down by the physician to fit the individual case. These are the Basic Seven:

Group 1: Green and yellow vegetables, one serving daily. (Some raw, some cooked, frozen or canned.)

Group 2: Oranges, tomatoes, grapefruit, one serving daily. (Raw cabbage or salad greens may be substituted.)

Group 3: Potatoes or other vegetables and fruits, two or more servings daily. (Raw, dried, cooked, frozen or canned.)

Group 4: Milk and milk products, 1½ pints to 1 quart a day for children, one pint for adults. (Fluid, evaporated or dried milk, or cheese.)

Group 5: Meat, poultry, fish or eggs; three or four eggs a week, and one daily serving of any of the other items.

Group 6: Bread or cereal; three or more servings daily.

Group 7: Butter and fortified margarine as desired. (For the diabetic as his personal diet permits.)

The Basic Seven foods mean good nutrition and better health.

Feb. 13 Scheduled As Date For Teacher Examinations

The National Teacher Examinations, prepared and administered annually by the Educational Testing Service, will be given at the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College on Saturday, Feb. 13, 1954.

Graduating seniors in teacher training curricula as well as teachers-in-service may take the one-day testing session which includes a common examination and one or two optional examinations in such fields as elementary education, early childhood education, biological science, English language and literature, industrial arts, mathematics, physical science, social studies and physical education.

Many school districts are now asking for results on the National Teacher Examinations so that increasing use of the tests in placement makes them very important.

Application forms and a bulletin of information may be secured from Dr. Francis B. McGarry, head, Department of Education at the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College or by writing directly to Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, N. J.

ESHS Class Publicists Use Plane

East Stroudsburg High School seniors are going to great lengths—or perhaps "heights"—to publicize "Seven Sisters," their class play.

Residents of the two Stroudsburg boroughs will see the results of the young people's enterprise sometime today when a plane flies over the communities dropping leaflets advertising the play and the annual "tag day" sale which benefits the two-community youth center.

This high pressure advertising campaign is the cooperative brainchild of a group of teen-age boys.

Credited with laying the groundwork for the plan is Jack Anthony, chairman of the senior class advertising committee.

Cooperating with Anthony were class president Charles Reid and class member Chauncey Dailey Jr. Dailey is a member of the Civil Air Patrol also.

With this connection in mind, class officials asked Dailey to contact airport owner Hal Hamlen. Hamlen agreed to go along with the proposal—providing the class group secured permission from the officials of both boroughs prior to the campaign.

This the officers—headed by Reid—accomplished in a short time. Borough officials checked to make sure there was no legality involving such matters; then gave their okay.

Today, as the plane flies over the two Stroudsburgs, Anthony will be on hand to dump seven different kinds of leaflets advertising both the play and the tag sale.

So far as available records show, it will mark the first use of leaflets by air-drop to publicize a school function locally.

Total effect of the air-publicity attempt will not be known, of course, until after the play has been presented Friday at 8 p.m., in the junior high auditorium and the tags have been sold on "Tag Day," Saturday.

Advertise in The Daily Record.

Pocono Pines Seniors To Present Play

Pocono Pines—Tobyhanna Township seniors will present their class play, "Girls Are Like That," on Friday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Included in the cast are Margaret Smith, Josephine Smith, Marlene Blakeslee, Marilyn Miller, Alice Guida, Joan Coleman, Joe Sylvanius, Leslie Deubler, Margaret Fescina and Larry Moyer.

College Cast To Give Play Two Nights

Tonight and tomorrow night two East Stroudsburg State Teachers College groups will be seen in their fall presentation, "Petticoat Fever" a three act comedy by Reed. Curtain time is 8 p. m.

This presentation is brought to the student body, as well as the public, through the combined efforts of Alpha Psi Omega, the national dramatic fraternity, and Mask and Zany, the college dramatic club.

The play, which was made into a motion picture, was a Broadway success and recently appeared at the Pocono Playhouse with Sonny Tufts in the leading role.

The college cast will be headed by leading talent from the Normal Hill institution and will be the third production under the directorship of Ralph Smith, a speech professor at the college.

Thomas (Mickey) Spillane and James Keifert head the male roles while Kathy Mertz and Carol Arnold assume the female leads.

Also appearing in the presentation are Larry Klick, Philip O'Neil, Robert Perry, Rosalie Steifel, Richard Blose and Susan Hopely.

Hostesses for games and refreshments will be Mrs. Claude Eckley, Mrs. Grant Knowles, Mrs. Willard Shoemaker, Mrs. Laura Brewer, Mrs. J. E. Serfass, and Mrs. Aureila Howell. Further plans will be made for the card and game party which will be held November 28, at the fire hall. Mrs. Grant Knowles and Mrs. P. W. Meixsell are in charge of cards, and Mrs. Harry Shoemaker, in charge of games. Refreshments will be served.

Rev. and Mrs. Harold Ulmer witnessed the preview showing of "Martin Luther," in Stroudsburg recently. The Good News quartet, of Philadelphia, will make a repeat appearance at St. Peter's Evangelical United Brethren church Nov. 22, for both Sunday school and church services.

Camp 208, P.O.A., will hold a party Thursday night, Nov. 19, at the fire hall. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Clayton Snyder and Mrs. Clair Halstead are in charge.

Callers over the weekend of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butts were Mrs. Alice Marsh of Stroudsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Foster Gould and son Ronnie, of Bartonsville; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schuler, sons Lloyd and Ronald and daughter Elva, of Neola; Mrs. J. H. Newhart and son Russell, of Stockertown; Mrs. George Metzgar, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Arnold and daughters Jean and Ada May, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Knowles, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Altemus and Woodrow Butts, of Bartonsville, was a weekend guest.

Mrs. Lydia Detrick observed her 88th birthday Tuesday. She received many greetings and best wishes from her friends.

Mrs. Melinda Wernett is spending the winter with her daughter in Grantville.

James Eckley is recuperating from his appendectomy at the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg.

Harold Kresge, who was the victim of a freak accident, is reported improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Van Buskirk and Mr. and Mrs. James Haney, of Somerville, N. J., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Green of Emmaus.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brands and daughters Barbara and Mary spent Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. Bertha Brands, of Hainesburg, N. J.

Pvt. Sherwood Lessig, Pen Argyl, who is enjoying a furlough, called Friday night on Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Roth.

Mrs. Catherine Colburn and daughter Louise, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday night with Mrs. Anetta Van Buskirk.

The Missionary Society of St. Peter's Evangelical United Brethren Church will meet Friday night at the home of Mrs. Willard Serfass at 7:30.

Israel, Arabs Study Proposal

Washington (AP)—Eric Johnston reported to President Eisenhower this week that Israel and her Arab neighbors are studying "with an open mind" a United Nations proposal for joint development of the Jordan River water resources.

As the President's special emissary, Johnston has just completed a tour of the nations concerned to talk with them about the 121 million dollar project. It calls for construction of two power dams and irrigation of 230,000 acres, thus providing land for a third of the 875,000 Arab refugees now being supported by the U. N.

Secretary of State Dulles told his news conference Johnston's mission had kept very much alive the plans for the project which otherwise, he said, would have been rejected because of Arab-Israeli tensions in the area.

Bureau of Standard's Robert L. Henry watches production of new electronic equipment greatly aiding preparedness effort.

Equipment made by old methods (left) and the new (right). This last is more rugged, less expensive, can be built faster.

Toy Building Blocks, Sticks Spark Idea Behind Miracles

By DAVID A. HELLER
(Central Press Correspondent)

Washington—Do you remember those building blocks and sticks you used to play with as a youngster? You'll be surprised to learn that these toys gave a brilliant young government engineer an idea which, now fully developed, opens the door to new electronic miracles, greatly enhances the national defense, and seems likely to cut billions of dollars from the tax bill in the event of a future world war.

The brilliant young engineer is Robert L. Henry, 35, of the National Bureau of Standards and the super-secret research conducted by scientists and engineers under his direction is "Project Tinkertoy." The wraps have just been taken off the project by the Bureau of Standards and the Navy and the results are startling.

Even if no war comes, "Project Tinkertoy" seems destined to revolutionize the nation's multi-billion dollar electronics industry and make possible better and cheaper radios, television sets and other devices.

If you'll look at the back of your radio or television set, you'll see a tangled mass of electrical equipment: coils, resistors and wires. In a few years, because of the project, you won't see them. Instead, there'll be a series of neat-looking little wafers stacked like building blocks running your set.

By the use of a printing press which prints electrical circuits, complete with printed resistors, on paper and adhesive tape, the new process permits completely automatic mass-production of electrical parts. Instead of doing the work by hand, slowly and tediously (and expensively), machines turn out the little gadgets at the rate of more than a thousand an hour.

The number of rejected items is drastically cut down, too, since machines automatically inspect the devices at every stage of the production instead of leaving the job to fallible human eyes.

The project was begun in 1950 by the Bureau of Standards under a contract from the Navy. The military planners were anxious to find some way of increasing the amount of electronic equipment that could be produced in a hurry—like a war-created emergency.

Under the old system, it would have taken at least 18 months to produce enough of the delicate, intricately-detailed devices to supply the thousands of needs for them which our fighting forces have. Under the fast machine-controlled production made possible by the new processes, the time can be slashed to about four months—using less material, requiring far less skilled labor, and at a fraction of the normal cost.

In the last war, the armed forces used about $4 billion worth of electronic equipment. In a full-scale World War III, our fighting men would need at least $44 billion worth. That is because the new miracle gadgets, with their superhuman skill and timing, can do all kinds of things human beings can't.

Take a simple example—aiming and firing the machine guns on a jet airplane. When two jet planes approach each other head on, their combined speeds may be more than a thousand miles an hour.

The pilot would stand little chance of hitting an enemy plane were he to aim and fire the guns himself because almost as soon as it came into sight, it would be gone. So electrically-controlled devices do it for him, shooting a lethal spray of steel at the vulnerable parts of the enemy aircraft. When the enemy is out of range, the electronic devices lock the guns, keeping them from useless firing and wasting valuable ammunition.

In these days of electronic miracles, the electrical devices on fighter airplanes cost far more than the planes themselves. A few years back, the devices were fewer and far less elaborate and costly.

The new units are made by building layers of the ceramic wafers connected by the printing press circuits. Instead of thousands of different kinds of parts, they are all the same, with different notches in the sides and center allowing the variation of circuits for different needs. The new units are far stronger and take up a lot less space.

Engineer Henry declares that he got the idea for building the modules from a toy building set. He was a member of the Bureau of Standards team of scientists which produced the proximity fuse—the second most important discovery of World War II, behind only the atomic bomb in importance.

Revised Law For Protection Of Dogs Urged

Pennsylvania's "dog protection laws" were termed antiquated and backward by George Wakefield, Monroe County SPCA agent, at the recent State convention in Allentown.

Wakefield keynoted a discussion period by calling for revision and updating of current laws. Joseph Niffley, counsel for the Federated Humane Societies of Pennsylvania, suggested revising the law to protect all animals, cover the entire field and guard against "exploitation of animals for advertising and non-educational purposes."

At open forums following the opening sessions, problems of shelters, investigation, inspection, administration and education were discussed.

Said LeRoy J. Ellis of the State SPCA organization, "We want to teach children to be kind to animals so that as adults they will be kind to children."

Attending from Monroe County SPCA were Wakefield, Mrs. Edward Knob, Mrs. Frank Kerr and Mrs. Ellen Albenzi.

All Candidates Must Report On Election Expense

All candidates—whether they were elected or defeated—must file an account of their election expenses not later than Dec. 3, the commissioners' office said yesterday. Candidates who had no expenses must file an affidavit to that effect. Necessary forms are available at the commissioners' office.

Possesses Good Eye

Association To Erect Yule Tree

Bangor—Second Ward Community Association here said it plans to erect its traditional Christmas tree at the corner of S. Main and Messinger Sts. here.

The association's annual children's party will be held Dec. 21 at 7 p. m. at the same corner. Hayden Pritchard, burgess, will be master of ceremonies. Charles Wise, president, conducted the meeting at which plans were made. He said officers would be elected at the next meeting on Jan. 12 at the Second Ward Fire Hall.

Ratification Of EDC Moves Step Closer

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

The statement of Socialist Leader Guy Mollet in the early stages of France's parliamentary debate on foreign affairs shows clearly that the wind is blowing early ratification of the European Defense Community.

For years France's Socialists have either actively opposed or passively disapproved of all the warlike measures involved in creating a defense line against Russia. Like the De Gaulle Rightists, they have especially disapproved of rearming Germany.

They announced several weeks ago, however, that they would finally go along with the government's advocacy of EDC.

Mollett took a particularly realistic line, albeit a simple one. He said Germany was going to be rearmed, and that EDC was the best assurance that she would not turn again against the West.

It was never in the cards that a nation like Germany should remain unarmed for very long under any circumstances. Under present circumstances, which would put her in the front line in case of war with Russia, it is inconceivable that she should be defended by French, British and American troops—as she would have to be unless the war was to be fought out in France—while the Germans merely looked on.

Under EDC there will be no revived German general staff of which France is so afraid. The Germans will wear the uniform and take orders of a European community acting through a civil "parliament" in which she will have no more say than anyone else. Indeed the theory is that there will be an organization superimposed upon both EDC and the European Coal and Steel Community which, like the latter, will submerge national interests in favor of supranational cooperation.

In addition, France will have commitments from the United States and Great Britain designed to protect her against any revival of German expansionism. A special treaty covering British military association with EDC is now being prepared.

The European army would thus replace, in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the armies of the five nations—France, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—which now belong, and add to the German strength.

Like Winston Churchill, the French Socialists have not entirely given up the hope that something may come of negotiations with Russia. Part of their long holdback has been due to this hope that something would happen to obviate the necessity for such a surrender of national sovereignty as represented by EDC, and for rearming West Germany. They want to keep trying on this.

But in the meantime, efforts to get Russia to negotiate having failed, they are now willing to take security measures against the possibility that Russia's intentions may be even worse than they have hitherto believed.

'Your Health'

From The Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania and the Monroe County Medical Society

One of every 17 persons in the United States has one or more of the cardiovascular-renal diseases.

Which means that approximately 9,200,000 people in this country suffer from heart blood vessel or kidney disease.

Fifty years ago, the four leading causes of death were pneumonia and influenza; tuberculosis; diarrhea and enteritis; cardiovascular-renal diseases.

During the half century since that time, death from these leading causes has shown a steady decline, all except the death rate for cardiovascular-renal diseases, which has increased.

Infectious diseases are falling back under the pressure of better sanitation, better living conditions, increased public health measures, and the great new force of the antibiotics.

As the infectious diseases come under control, the average life span lengthens, and a large proportion of the population is in the old age groups where the cardiovascular-renal diseases before old age, in the productive years from 45 to 65.

In 1822, a group of physicians interested in the increasingly great problem of heart disease formed the American Heart Association.

The Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania and each of its sixty component county medical societies have Commissions and Committees actively concerned with cardiovascular diseases.

There is continual improvement, through these groups, in the care of patients with cardiovascular diseases.

DO YOU KNOW?

The average doctor in the United States spends 12 per cent of his working hours doing charity work, the dollar value of the time given to charity patients by the average doctor is more than $3,000 annually and his donations of time from 1947 to 1951 increased 15 per cent.

Fine Delays Start Of Israel Trip

Harrisburg, (AP)—Governor John S. Fine yesterday postponed his departure for Israel from last night until 9 a. m. today because of poor flying conditions in Europe.

The governor told a press conference he will leave on his 10-day tour on an Israeli commercial plane from the New York International Airport. He will return Dec. 5.

The governor said his flight, originally scheduled for 9:30 last night was delayed by the New York office of the air line because of heavy fog conditions blanketing England and the French coast.

Weather conditions are not expected to change until early today.

The governor's long-planned trip is being made on an invitation issued on behalf of the Israeli government by that country's ambassador to the United States, Abba Eban.

The governor emphasized that the trip is "strictly non-political and personal."

The primary purpose of the journey, Fine said, is to attend a tree planting ceremony in Israel where a forest has been dedicated in his name to honor the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The governor said that on his return trip he will visit once again the campus of Trinity College in Dublin, Eire, where he once was a student.

The governor will be accompanied on his tour by Charles Weissman, president of the American Auto Stores, Wilkes-Barre, and Harry and William Silk, Philadelphia drug company executives.

HERE IS A SECTION of the crowded Senate caucus room in Washington as Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. (arrow) testified before the Senate Internal Security Committee which is looking into details of the Harry Dexter White case. He challenged statements made by former President Harry Truman in his national broadcast.

FBI CHIEF J. Edgar Hoover, making an extraordinary appearance, takes the stand before the Senate Internal Security Committee checking the Harry Dexter White case in Washington. He said the FBI never was any party to former President Truman's purported plan to retain White in a high post to keep him under surveillance as a suspected Soviet spy.

British Kill 101 Terrorists

Nairobi, Kenya, (AP)—A communique said that British security forces killed 101 Mau Mau terrorists in this British East African colony last week. The Mau Mau is made up mostly of Kikuyu tribesmen who have vowed to drive the white men out of Kenya.

McDevitt's Resignation Turned Down

Harrisburg, (AP)—The resignation of James L. McDevitt of Philadelphia from his post as president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor yesterday was refused by the organization's executive council.

McDevitt tendered his resignation in order to devote his full time to the AFL-Laborers' League for Political Education. He has been president of the PFL since 1938.

At the same time, McDevitt hinted to newsmen that he may resign the LLPE position at the national AFL executive council meeting in Miami next month.

"You can see my position," McDevitt said. "The Pennsylvania Federation won't let me leave, so I must consider between now and January which job I should keep. It's impossible for me to keep up handling both."

The PFL executive council also adopted a resolution urging McDevitt to stay on and recommended that his $16,000 a year salary as state president be raised to $20,000. McDevitt receives $20,000 a year in his LLPE post.

The council also recommended that the state PFL convention raise the $13,000 a year salary of Secretary-Treasurer Earl C. Bohr, Camp Hill, to $16,000 a year.

Youth Through With Automobiles

Detroit (AP)—Douglas E. Foster, 17, of suburban Royal Oak, tore up his driver's license this week and vowed he was "through with riding cars."

Last August Foster was the driver of a car in which his 15-year-old sister, Patricia Ann, was killed.

Then in the same month his brother, Richard, 10, was injured fatally when he swerved his bicycle into the path of a car.

Foster was slightly injured Monday when a car in which he was a passenger was involved in a minor accident.

That was when he decided he'd had enough of autos.

Bonds Offered To Investors

Washington (AP) — The Treasury has offered holders of 10 billion dollars worth of Treasury notes maturing Dec. 1 a chance to exchange them for a new, shorter note at lower interest or for five-year bonds at slightly higher interest.

The offer of bonds marks another attempt by Secretary Humphrey to stretch out the public debt. The maturing notes, mostly held by the Federal Reserve System, were issued Oct. 1, 1952, and pay 2¼ per cent interest.

Kiwanis Club Honors Students Who Won Home Economics And Agriculture Contests

Frank Anthony, of the Department of Education, Penn State University, gave a graphically illustrated talk on agriculture and living conditions in the Middle East at the annual agricultural meeting of Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club in the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday afternoon.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the presentation of awards to 13 students of county high schools in recognition of their work in a large number of projects carried on by them during the past year. There were scores of participants with man-hour earnings running into thousands of dollars.

Wilmer B. Frisbie, agriculture adviser, was general chairman and planned the program. Members of the Kiwanis agriculture committee presented the prize winners and other guests. They were Russell Harmon, A. M. Price, John R. Lesoine, Dr. Nathan Meyer and Dale H. Learn.

First prize winners in the home economics projects were: Betty Marsh, Stroudsburg; Mary George, Chestnuthill Twp.; Shirley Griffith, Polk Twp.; Beverly Keiper, Tobyhanna Twp.; and Norma Schuler, Pocono Twp.

Winners of first prize awards in agriculture follow: Roger Chistman, Polk Twp.; Herbert Courtright, Stroudsburg; Robert Fields, Pocono Twp.; and Myrl Pysher, Chestnuthill Twp.

Second agriculture awards went to Carl Gould, Chestnuthill Twp.; Richard Graeber, Pocono Twp.; Glenn Detrick, Stroudsburg, and Ernest Kleintop, Polk Twp.

Two exchange students at Penn State from the Phillipine Islands, guests of Mr. Anthony, were presented. They were Felix Remigio and Virgimio Juan. The former is the father of six daughters. The latter, who is following teacher training, spoke briefly complimenting Americans for assistance given his nation and people.

Mr. Frisbie, in his introductory remarks, recalled that the Kiwanis Club had emphasized the agriculture and homemaking activities in the county high schools the past 12 or 13 years and told how they had been beneficial.

Mr. Anthony commended the Kiwanis Club for its support and development of agriculture projects in the county. His address covered Middle East countries, their living conditions in the last 5,000 years and the religious backgrounds. He showed a large number of colored slides covering a wide range of subjects.

Miserable living conditions were brought out in the pictures, people depending mostly on agriculture as pursued without the advantage of modern training or methods. Prominent cities of Biblical areas were shown.

In his conclusion, Mr. Anthony declared we in this country can help improve conditions in the Middle East by sending experienced men to those countries. This, he said, is one of the best ways of building up peace in the world.

Alan Keiper reported the green pennant had been awarded East Stroudsburg High School for having passed through the past month without an accident among the students.

Detleff A. Hansen informed the club the Service Club bowling league had gotten under way this week. Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions Clubs are cooperating. They bowl Tuesday nights.

Guests at the meeting yesterday included John C. Litts, county superentendent; Walter H. Sebring, assistant superintendent; Superintendent Earl Groner, Stroudsburg; Principals Willis Dunlap, Tobyhanna Twp.; Alfred W. Munson, Stroudsburg High School; Harry Young, Polk Twp.; Lawrence Wile, Pocono Twp.

These home economic teachers were welcomed: Miriam Lark, adviser; Shirley Labe, Pocono Twp.; Frances Feltham and Mary Hall, Stroudsburg; Grace Wildrick, Tobyhanna Twp.; Margaret Ingram, Chestnuthill Twp.; Marian Meckes, Polk Twp.; also Harriet Carlton, secretary, county superintendent's office.

Agriculture teachers present included Clifford Stroud, Polk Twp.; Albert Gross, Stroudsburg; Frank Verney, Chestnuthill Twp., and John Montgomery, Pocono Twp.

Key Club was represented by Robert Wildrick
